

Brown Asks Harmony On Peak Budget

$3.6 Billion Total 'Frugal,'
He Says; GOP Seeking Cuts

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown pleaded for political harmony today in submitting another record-high state budget to an election year legislature already primed for a fight.

The Democratic chief executive assessed state costs at 3,661,598,639 dollars for the year beginning July 1, with a heavy accent on education. He termed it "frugal" in view of pressures from growth. (See stories pages 7, 9).

Minority Republicans protested the size of the budget

GOP Denies New Budget Is Balanced

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Republicans voiced only disbelief today in reacting to Gov. Edmund G. Brown's contention that his 3.66-billion-dollar 1964-65 budget is "soundly balanced."

Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy of San Rafael, commented:

If his budget is balanced, I'll make a personal contribution to his campaign for vice president. Once again, Pat Brown has refused to face up to the eventual day of fiscal reckoning. He has again given us the highest government spending and the highest taxes in the nation.

"He says his budget is based on modest increases. His modesty is amazing... a budget of more than 3.6 billion dollars with an increase of 6 per cent in spending while the population has increased only 3.3 percent."

Assembly Minority Leader Charles Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks) contended that the governor's boast of no new taxes isn't true. The proposals for a tax reform to gain 2.5 million dollars annually from insurance companies, and to set up a county-wide tax for school support constitute a new tax, Conrad contended.

He said it "beats me... how the governor's press agents can keep a straight face as they grind out the annual statement about 'no new taxes'..."

Casper Weinberger, state Republican chairman, also blasted the insurance tax proposal. He said Brown could grant tax relief by cutting the "mammoth... budget, rather than by switching the tax burden to insurance companies."

Single Marin Planning Program Urged

Marin County should have a single, overall planning operation instead of 11 different planning commissions acting independently, several speakers declared during Saturday's conference on "Marin and Its Future."

More than 400 gathered at Guzman Hall of Dominican College in San Rafael for the all-day discussion. Margaret Azavedo of Tiburon was chairman. Donald Foley, professor of city planning and architecture at University of California, served as moderator.

Naphtali Knox of Mill Valley, community planner at University of California, called for a single planning operation for the entire county. He said the county supervisors should also appoint a strong and widely representative citizens committee to set goals for the future.

"Should we fail to respond to the traffic planners' challenge and thus forfeit the opportunity to shape our future, we will bring on the Los Angelesization of Marin," Knox said.

Unless adequate plans are made, Knox said his crystal ball shows this condition would exist in 1984: "On weekends, it's impossible to get to the National Seashore where crowds from the entire Bay Region converge on pleasant beaches warmed by the effluent of atomic reactors."

The crowd roared at his obvious dig at the atomic plant planned at Bodega Head.

Architect Felix M. Warburg, member of the Marin County Planning Commission, went even further. "We should consider a single county government," he said. "I think we can have a single government with-

HERMAN E. HEIN

Herman Hein, Landscape Architect, Dies

Herman E. Hein, dean of Marin County landscape architects, died Saturday in a local hospital about an hour after he suffered a heart attack at the wheel of his moving car in Mill Valley.

He was 61.

Hein had his office at 4 El Paseo, Mill Valley, and resided at 158 West Blithedale Avenue, also in Mill Valley. He was driving near the Greyhound Bus depot about 10 a.m. when he had the attack. His car rolled into another vehicle, causing only minor damage.

He was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment but died about 11 a.m. He had suffered a previous heart attack in 1958 and had been under care of a doctor since January of 1963. An autopsy was scheduled.

Hein was born May 8, 1902, in Erfurt, Germany. He and his bride, Kathie, came to the United States in 1923 and to California soon after. In 1925 they moved to Mill Valley where he spent 23 years as a teacher in home gardening since 1938. His classes included stints at College of Marin and San Rafael High School.

Hein was a founder of the Marin Art and Garden Center. He also was well known as a public speaker. In 1959 he and his wife spent six and one-half months in Europe, mostly in western Germany—their first return to their native land.

Survivors are the wife; a son, Richard of San Anselmo; a daughter, Mrs. Linda Marten of Tiburon; a brother, Carl in Germany, and a half-brother, Herman G. of San Anselmo.

Memorial services will be held for Hein at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross, in the vicinity of the north gate.

A memorial will be established for Hein at the Marin Art and Garden Center. Members of the family said they would prefer tributes be contributions to the Art and Garden Center or the Marin Conservation League.

Picketing Started At New York Schools

NEW YORK (AP)—Picketing of New York City public schools began at 6:30 a.m. today as part of the plan for a mass boycott of classrooms to protest their racial imbalance.

Leaders of the boycott expected up to half of the one million pupils in the nation's largest school system to stay out. About 44 per cent of the pupils are Negro and Puerto Rican.

Mystery Adds To Drowning Death In Auto In Sausalito

Car Vaults Sea Wall; Collision Was Possible

Mystery was added today to tragedy and heroism that saw one man drowned and four persons rescued from San Francisco Bay just off the Sausalito sea wall early yesterday.

The car that carried Edwin Bernard Gray, 33, of San Francisco to his death in the bay may have hit two other vehicles as it careened toward the sea wall on Bridgeway Boulevard. But the driver of one of them was not sure, and the other was a parked, unoccupied auto.

Gray, chief of claims for the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Employee Compensation in San Francisco, was trapped in the back seat of a Triumph convertible as it vaulted the sea wall and went down in eight feet of water.

His wife, Jane, 30, and Robin Sanborn, 29, of 200 Sausalito Boulevard, Sausalito, escaped the car and swam to the sea wall. Unable to climb the five-foot, 80-degree concrete wall, Mrs. Gray cried for help.

HERO OF RESCUE

Her calls brought rescuers from the nearby Trident restaurant who saved her, Sanborn; driver Thomas Ryan, 32, San Francisco attorney, and his wife, Collette, 33. But they could not save Gray.

Hero of the rescue was Donald MacArthur, 30, of 20 Hillcrest Road, Mill Valley, manager of the Kingston Trio, who own the Trident.

MacArthur was leaving the Trident with Jane Tise, 24, of 107-A South Street and Carol Rogers, 24, of 412 Pine Street, both Sausalito, shortly after 2 a.m. when he heard Mrs. Gray's screams.

He ran to the sea wall. There he saw her clinging. The lights of the submerged car could be seen shining through the water about 10 feet from the wall.

MacArthur plunged into the water. His companions ran back to the Trident for help. MacArthur's brother Michael, 28; Beau Reifenrath, recently released from military service, and Nick Reynolds, a member of the Kingston Trio, responded.

Donald MacArthur pulled Mrs. Gray to the top of the sea wall. Then he made out Sanborn, clinging desperately to the wall, and pulled him up. While his brother and Reifenrath revived the two, he dived into the water.

MacArthur said he could not find the door handle on the overturned car under the water. He finally broke a window, and pulled out Mr. and Mrs. Ryan. Helped by the other rescuers, he got them ashore.

McCarthy Asks Fort Properties For Parks

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) started the ball rolling today to get surplus land at Forts Baker, Barry and Cronkhite in Marin County conveyed to the state for park and recreation uses.

The senate minority leader introduced three resolutions today at the opening of the state legislature.

One asks the president and Congress to take action necessary to provide for conveyance of the lands to the state.

A second states that such lands shall become a part of the state park system and will be maintained and developed for parks and recreation.

The third requests the State Division of Beaches and Parks to conduct a survey to determine which parts of Forts Baker, Barry and Cronkhite can be used for park purposes.

The federal government has already declared land within the forts to be surplus. The resolutions will be sent to committees for study.

Rush For License Plate Stickers

The last-minute rush is on for 1964 license plate stickers. Tomorrow is the deadline.

Dave Davis, manager of the San Rafael office of the California Department of Motor Vehicles at 1926 Fourth Street, reported applicants were "lined to the street" today.

The deadline for obtaining the stickers is midnight tomorrow.

The San Rafael office will close at 5 p.m. tomorrow, but applications may be mailed, if postmarked by midnight tomorrow.

Residents Bar Limantour Beach Access

A determined group of Point Reyes Station residents put up a blockade against picnickers attempting to reach Limantour Beach over the weekend.

They manned a chain barricade across Drake Summit Road guarding the road that provides access to the beach, technically open to the public as a part of Point Reyes National Seashore.

Mrs. James W. Lockhart of Drake Summit Road said that more than a score of residents working guard duty shifts turned back 70 cars Saturday and "less yesterday."

The chain was up a mile from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, blocking what Mrs. Lockhart contends is a private road that should not be open to public traffic.

Other cars turned away after heeding signs, one at the road entrance along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard saying "Road Closed at Summit," and one on the Lockhart property, saying "Stop — Private Road."

The Lockharts, across whose property the road passes, and residents of Drake's Beach Estates manned the chain guard. "About nine-tenths of the people we stopped agreed with us, but several were nasty," Mrs. Lockhart said.

She protested against the littering and damage to private property which resulted at the beach the previous weekend. "The park is not ready for public use," she said.

Park Supt. Fred W. Binnevis said he had no plan to declare Limantour Beach off limits and would consult with government lawyers to see whether the road block can be lifted.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

GOP'S Backing Johnson Hit

SACRAMENTO (AP)—"Much too large a proportion of Republicans" are backing President Lyndon B. Johnson, according to recent polls, says State GOP Chairman Caspar Weinberger.

Commenting yesterday following a weekend meeting of the executive committee of the Republican State Central Committee, Weinberger added:

"I hope none of our California Republicans would continue to be taken in by this attempt to portray one of the biggest spenders of the New Deal as a fiscal conservative. He can't have changed his spots overnight."

Castro Starts Ball Tourney

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro, whose assassination was rumored last week, appeared in public for the first time in nine days yesterday to inaugurate the national amateur baseball championships. Befitting his position, Castro chose to be the lead-off batter.

1,000 Pass Ladd Casket

GLENDAL (UPI)—More than 1,000 fans of the late film star Alan Ladd, many of them weeping, Saturday filed past his open casket.

The procession began after the funeral services at the insistence of his widow, Sue Carol, who said, "I want Alan's fans to be allowed to go past."

Ladd, 50, was found dead last Wednesday at Palm Springs.

Death was first attributed to a heart attack, but the county coroner later said it could have been something he ate or drank. A coroner's report today may reveal the actual cause of death.

Erhard Aid Hangs Himself

DORTMUND, Germany (AP)—Ewald Peters, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's chief security officer, hanged himself during the night in the jail where he was being held on suspicion of war crimes, the state prosecutor's office announced today.

The prosecutor's office said Peters, in his 50s, used a bed sheet for a rope.

Peters was arrested in Bonn on suspicion of taking part in mass killing of Jews in the Soviet Union during World War II.

Art Student Held In Slaying

LOS GATOS (AP)—The suspect in the first slaying in Los Gatos in 40 years was caught when police walked across Main Street from an art gallery to a coffee shop.

There they found Robert Keith, 31, an art student from Aptos. Officers said Keith admitted the scissors stabbing Saturday of Mrs. Phyllis Rank, 45. He was arrested for suspicion of murder.

Mrs. Rank, a housewife with an interest in modern painting, took art lessons at The Vault with Keith. Police said Keith told them he was in love with the victim.

Chou Aiding Somalia?

MOGADISHU, Somalia (AP)—Chou en-lai, premier of Communist China, and Abdur Rashid Ali Shermarke, premier of Somalia, held a long, private meeting here. It was understood the Red Chinese have offered 20 million dollars in various credits to Somalia.

Chutist Injured

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Parachutist Fred Hastings, 29, of Louisville was in serious condition today after he plunged 5,500 feet to the ground at Seymour, Ind. Hastings, making his 41st jump with the Kentucky Parachute Assn., landed feet first in a soft, wet field yesterday. Hastings was saved because his parachute blossomed briefly.

Bipartisan Drive Bans Conceding To Panama

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Lyndon B. Johnson is on blunt notice that he faces a bruising bipartisan fight in Congress if crucial concessions are made to Panama on continued U.S. control and operation of the canal.

The blunt warning was conveyed at the meeting of 16 Democratic and Republican congressional leaders hurriedly convened by the president late Wednesday afternoon. Also present were Undersecretary of State George Ball, Assistant Secretary Thomas Mann, and Ellsworth Bunker, delegate to the Organization of American States.

The emphatic insistence that the U.S. stand firm against Panamanian demands was voiced chiefly by Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen, Ill.; Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper, Iowa, senior Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee; Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, and Rep. Armistead Selden, Jr. (D-Ala.), chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on Latin America.

Senators Dirksen and Hickenlooper threw down the gauntlet after hearing ambassador Bunker's account of his tortuous efforts to reach an understanding with Miguel Moreno, top Panamanian representative.

Bunker disclosed that under one proposal tentatively agreed on, the U.S., in effect, would have been committed to negotiate extensive revision of the canal treaty. The draft did not actually say that, but that would have been the practical effect. It was defended on the ground "some recasting of the treaty is unavoidable."

This was vigorously challenged by Dirksen and Hickenlooper.

"I am flatly opposed to anything that in any way effects our continued full control and operation of the Panama Canal," asserted Dirksen.

"To me, that proposal savors

GOP LEADERS SHUN TRUCE WITH JOHNSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The two top Republican leaders in Congress have asserted they have no intention of agreeing to President Lyndon B. Johnson's suggestion for a political truce.

House chief of staff Charles A. Halleck of Indiana spoke out yesterday, a day after Johnson told a news conference it was in the country's interest "to keep free from mudslinging and petty politics."

"Believe me there is not going to be a political truce," said Dirksen.

Halleck, referring to polls that show Johnson garnering 75 per cent of the vote in trials, said if he were that far ahead, he'd want a political truce too.

strongly of appeasement," said Hickenlooper. "I am against it and, like Senator Dirksen, will do everything I can to fight it if anything comes of it."

This charged atmosphere was further electrified by Senator Russell's vigorously seconding the two Republican leaders.

"The time has come to draw the line," said the powerful Georgian. "I don't know of a better time to do it than on this issue."

Representative Selden heartily supported these views. He asserted that a majority of his committee is against reopening the Panama treaty in a way that might lead to transfer of the Canal to Panama.

Johnson listened intently to these forthright pronouncements, but made no comment.

Young Demos Back Regular Party Stand

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—The nation's young Democrats are on record today with resolutions that would please most any party regular.

A battle over civil rights, condemnation of the racial right and liberal resolutions for major foreign policy changes failed to get off the ground at the 14th biennial convention of Young Democratic Clubs of America which ended Saturday night.

Resolutions passed by the more than 1,000 delegates included:

1. Urging congress to pass the administration's omnibus civil rights bill "without crippling amendments" and condemning members of congress who sought to delay passage of the bill.
2. Deploing "the tactics of the lunatic left just as we deplore the lunatic right."
3. Opposing resumption of diplomatic or trade relations with Cuba.
4. Supporting President Lyndon B. Johnson's war on poverty and the tax reform program.
5. Calling for further expansion of free world trade in non-strategic materials.

Shy Corporal Tells Slaying In Nazi Camp

Suspect Saw Men Killed, Turned Away
As Women Stripped

FRANKFORT, Germany (UPI)—A former Nazi medic at the wartime Auschwitz death camp said today he saw nude male inmates beaten, poisoned, shot and burned, but was too shy to watch men and women stripping together for gassing.

Emil Hantl, 61, a slight, balding weaver who described himself as a "little SS corporal," mumbled to a West German court trying him for war crimes:

"It's true. One day I happened into the gas chamber building . . . but when I saw there were men and women together taking off their clothes for gassing, I closed the door right away."

MURDER CHARGES

Hantl is one of 21 former Auschwitz personnel on trial for their alleged roles in murdering up to four million Jews, Poles and other prisoners during World War II at the extermination camp in German-occupied Poland. Hantl himself is accused of giving fatal carbolic acid injections to prisoners he selected.

Hantl told the nine-judge tribunal he saw human beings "squirting" (injected with acid), beaten, shot and burned.

"But mostly we just sat around and did nothing. I had no orders. I still don't know what my duties were . . . that's what I'd still like to know," the stammering defendant said.

JUDGE CUTS IN

Chief Judge Hans Hofmeyer cut in sharply, "You did nothing . . . Scherpe did nothing . . . who then killed the prisoners?"

Herbert Scherpe, 56, Hantl's predecessor as SS medic at Auschwitz hospital, also testified he "only watched" inmates being killed.

"The trustees did the squirting . . ." Hantl said. "I only signed the death certificates . . . I wasn't even sure they were dead . . . I just had to go with them when they were squirting . . . my job was keeping order . . . I put fresh straw in the mattresses after patients went to the (cremation) ovens."

$28 Million Cost As Moon Rocket's TV Cameras Fail

Ranger 7 Shot Is Planned
After Six Straight Flops

PASADENA (AP)—Space scientists sifted through coded tapes today in a search for the reason why spacecraft Ranger 6 plunged into the moon with its cameras blind to the wonders of the lunar landscape.

The agonizing end to a 66-hour flight came yesterday when Ranger 6 reached its historic rendezvous—and six television cameras aboard wouldn't function.

Laboratory directors went ahead with plans for Ranger 7's flight—an identical photo mission—pointing out that the Ranger series is designed to gather information needed for manned U.S. landings planned later this decade.

The fruitless journey of Ranger 6 was the sixth straight failure in the Ranger program. The cost to date: $168 million dollars at 28 million dollars a shot.

Ranger 6 was the first of the costly spacecraft to complete the difficult moon-approach maneuver faultlessly—which made the blind crash even more frustrating for its designers.

The camera system was considered one of the simplest mechanisms on the 804-pound spacecraft.

FM Makes Hit In A.M. And P.M.

From compliments still pouring in for KTIM's all-day FM broadcast of the "Future of Marin" conference last Saturday, at least two points have been proved: Bank of Marin, who sponsored the program, picked a winner — and people DO listen to FM. . . .

NEXT FM SPECTACULAR will probably be the pilot group of College of Marin's roundtable broadcasts heard direct from the lecture halls with top panelists and provocative topics . . . Tentative dates are the nights of March 30, April 6, 20 and 27. . . . Studio audience will participate in much the same way as listeners to our Sounding Board programs phone in questions.

WHILE KTIM-FM is on the air daily from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. regardless of the month—KTIM-AM has now stretched its A.M. and P.M. hours for February by 30 minutes each way (this sounds confusing to me, too!) . . . Anyway—the new time is 7 to 5:45.

YOU COMMUTERS—listen to those traffic checks spread between 7 and 8:30 a.m. . . . CHUCK PENDLETON is helping BILL THOMPSON with up-to-the-minute 101 Highway data from Novato to the Golden Gate Bridge. . . . Morning news then, too. . . .

EVERYONE'S TALKING about the uncanny daily weather forecasts of Harry Geise at 12:25 p.m. . . . Frank Gargiulo at Maria's Pueblo judges how hot to make his tamales by Harry's temperature predictions.

Auto Turns Over, And Driver's Imagination Leads To Search

A helicopter and 12 Tamalpais Valley firemen searched the mudflats near the Richardson Bay Bridge for two hours Saturday for a woman believed to have been thrown out of a car.

The report of the missing woman turned out to be the "figment of imagination" of Brendon Joseph Stronge, 30, of San Francisco, who turned his car over on the bridge, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Stronge overcorrected for a lane change as he was northbound 200 yards south of the north end of the bridge at 5:20 p.m., the highway patrol reported.

The car hit the divider strip, sailed into the air and hit the west railing of the bridge. It rebounded into a car in the southbound lane driven by Jaime Balladares, 33, of San Francisco.

Stronge was treated at Marin General Hospital for a scalp cut and head injuries. He was transferred in "fair" condition to Mary's Help Hospital in San Francisco.

At the accident scene, Stronge told highway patrolmen that Mrs. Margaret Smith of 235 Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo, owner of the car, was thrown over the railing.

Tamalpais Fire Chief Herbert Owen headed a search party that borrowed a row-boat to search the mud flats around the bridge. A helicopter from nearby Commodore Aviation flew around the area using its strong landing light.

The search was called off when the three highway patrol officers, becoming suspicious, went to the hospital and questioned Stronge. He told them it was a "figment of my imagination."

Stronge was cited for driving over the divider. Mrs. Smith was located at her home by San Anselmo police.

United GOP Meet Leans To Barry

FRESNO (AP) — The board of governors of the conservative United Republicans of California (UROC) gave virtual endorsement to the GOP presidential campaign of Sen. Barry Goldwater at a weekend meeting in Fresno.

The board completed action early yesterday on a draft of nine resolutions which follow closely the expressed beliefs of the conservative Arizona.

The resolutions will be submitted to local units of the organization, which claims 7,000 members.

"When Have You Earned Your Commission?" will be the subject of a talk tomorrow by San Rafael attorney Albert Bianchi, appearing before real estate brokers at the breakfast meeting of the Marin County Real Estate Board at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

A luncheon of the board's women's division Thursday at Dominic's will feature a discussion of Marin civic affairs by Daniel F. Deedy, executive director of the board.

Quentin Wye Wreck Causes Injury To Two

Two persons were treated for injuries at a hospital and a Petaluma man was booked on a drunken driving charge after a traffic accident on Highway 101 at San Quentin Wye at 10:45 p.m. Saturday.

Ronald L. Owen, 21, of Petaluma, was booked by the California Highway Patrol on charges of drunken driving and contributing to the delinquency of a minor after his car hit the rear of one driven in the northbound lane by John Paul Russo, 34, of San Francisco.

Russell Edward Bell, 17, of Petaluma, a passenger in Owen's car, was treated at San Rafael Hospital for face cuts. Mary Ann Polk, 39, of San Francisco, a passenger in Russo's car, was treated for bruises.

Gilbert Allan Fullam, 18, of Muir Beach, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and bruises on his left leg after he fell out of a car Saturday at 4 p.m. at Bridgeway and Ebbtide Avenue, just north of the Sausalito city limits.

David Ray Nowlan, 22, of 131 Santa Rosa Avenue, Sausalito, was making a U-turn on Bridgeway when the door on Fullam's side flew open and he fell out, according to the highway patrol.

Cemetery Acquisition On Novato Agenda

The Novato Parks and Recreation advisory commission will again consider acquiring the old Novato Cemetery and adjacent lands for a city park at its meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the community house.

Other items to be discussed by the commission include a tree ordinance, winter recreation policy, and Community House policy.

A Steep Ride

PALM SPRINGS (UPI) — The new Palm Springs Aerial Tramway takes about 12 minutes to travel 12,770 feet. The trip includes a rise in elevation of about 600 feet a minute.

Closed-Door Session On County Budget

County administrator Alan Bruce met behind closed doors with Donald R. Frost, public works director, today in the first of a round of informal discussions on the county budget for next fiscal year.

Bruce said the meetings would be closed to the press "because to have any value at this early stage they should be uninhibited."

He said the talks with some department heads may involve "substantial reorganization of their departments."

The specific budget requests are scheduled to be submitted by March 16. Bruce will discuss the requests with department heads during the first two weeks of April.

He said he has not decided yet whether these meetings will be open to the press.

Also scheduled to meet with Bruce today were James V. Burdick, veterans service officer, and Betty Presley, welfare department head.

San Jose School Bonds On Agenda

San Jose School District trustees will discuss the March 3 bond issue at a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the Meadow Park School.

The board has asked for a $275,000 bond issue and authorization for a $1,184,000 state loan.

The board will also appoint a director for the summer school. Other items to be considered include purchase of a transistor radio for each school office and approval of the contract with San Francisco State College for practicing teachers.

Wages Compared

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — White men earn a median income of $5,109 a year in California, non-white men $3,515, according to the state Department of Social Welfare.

Marin Citian Cited After Three Cars Hit, Hurting Two

Two persons suffered minor injuries in a three-car crash in the southbound lanes of Highway 101 at the Strawberry pedestrian overcrossing at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

George Condra, 46, of Building 216, Marin City, was cited by the California Highway Patrol for speeding and possession of an open container of alcohol in his car.

Condra's auto, according to the highway patrol, hit cars driven by Jose Aviles, 55, of San Francisco, and Donald F. Cocking, 48, of 1135 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, in the southbound lane. Condra's car then crossed the highway and careened through a chain link fence.

Aviles and Bernice Cocking, 43, a passenger in her husband's car, told the highway patrol that they would see their doctors for treatment of minor injuries.

Mary Pearson, 68, of San Francisco, passenger in a car driven by Jerry Deil, 64, of San Francisco, was to see her doctor for treatment of minor injuries after the car was hit in the rear on Highway 101, 200 feet south of the Marin City undercrossing, at 6:35 p.m. yesterday.

Deil slowed his car for traffic ahead and it was hit by a car driven by Robert Guy Lounibos, 77, of Petaluma, according to a highway patrol.

Water Sampler Shifted On River

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California Department of Water Resources has moved its automatic water sampler from a location on the Sacramento River at Walnut Grove downstream to Antioch.

The department said the greater fluctuation in the salt content of the water at the new location will help engineers evaluate the measuring device, which detects and records temperature, oxygen content, salt concentration, acidity and electrical conductivity.

Motor Vehicles Seeking Lawyer

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Department of Motor Vehicles is looking for a lawyer to fill a new legal position.

The department's associate counsel will review investigative reports and evidence gathered for proposed actions or complaints, advise investigators and administrators on legal questions, represent the department at hearings, and cooperate with the attorney general's office.

Marindale School Bids To Be Opened

Members of the Marin County Board of Education will meet a half hour early, at 7:30 p.m., today at the Civic Center to watch opening of bids for additions to the Marindale School.

During the regular session the board will hear a report on a special committee's request for more persons to work in the county's special education, and another calling for a study of the county schools library service.

A list of new instructional materials and auxiliary text books will be given to the board.

Continued participation for the 1964-65 school year in the bay region instructional television for education program will be considered, and a resolution supporting a proposed initiative measure on state bonds for schools will be presented.

Brown Asks Harmony On Record Budget

The November election ballot. One, for 350 million dollars, would continue building projects at the University of California, state colleges and local junior colleges.

The other, for 260 million dollars, would replenish funds in the 14-year bond program to provide state aid for local school construction.

Why the 6 per cent increase when the population has grown by only 3.3 per cent.

The governor blamed it on the fact that the under-25 age group now represents 45 per cent of the state's nearly 18 million population.

FATAL

screamed Mrs. Gray. MacArthur plunged back into the water.

"I found Gray wedged in there and got him out," MacArthur said. "The others tried hard to resuscitate him, and the fire department came, but he was dead."

Meantime, at 2:14 a.m., Sausalito police received a call from Odus L. Davis of 493 Bridgeway. He told Officer Harvey Zion, "I heard a loud crash and people yelling for help."

Zion, with Sgt. Stan Kelly, Officer Ben Barrett and Reserve Officer James Harrison, sped to the scene. Zion tried to revive Gray with mouth-to-mouth breathing until a fire department resuscitator crew arrived. It was no use.

Gray's death was the third in Marin County traffic this year. There were also three traffic deaths to this date last year.

Clues to what happened—but which only seemed to add to the mystery—came later.

Marjorie I. Kelley, 35, a librarian and resident at Dominican College in San Rafael, called Sergeant Kelly to tell him her car had been sideswiped on Bridgeway about the time of the accident.

She later told Asst. Coroner William Bradley that as she drove north on Bridgeway about 2 a.m., a car speeding from the south "zigzagged over the white line and sideswiped us. I stopped, looked around for the car but could not see it."

It was very foggy at the time police said.

Reserve Officer Harrison reported he found a paint transfer similar in color to the Ryan car on a station wagon parked on the west side of Bridgeway, indicating the zigzagging death car may have brushed it also as it went toward the bay.

Mrs. Ryan was discharged from Marin General Hospital yesterday after treatment for numerous cuts and bruises. Her husband remained in the hospital today under treatment for exposure. His condition was termed good.

Mrs. Gray and Sanborn were given emergency treatment and released.

Bradley said the Ryans were guests of the Grays at the latter's San Francisco home Saturday night. After dinner, they drove to Sausalito. They picked up Sanborn, an acquaintance, at the Cat and Fiddle Bar on Bridgeway.

Seawall Protection Measure On Tap

Sausalito City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said today he will talk with B. J. Whitlow, city engineer, to see if interim measures are possible for protection at the sea wall between Richardson Street and the Ondine Restaurant.

Edwin Bernard Gray, 33, of San Francisco, was killed early yesterday when the car in which he was a passenger went over the wall.

Proposed plans for widening Bridgeway between Princess and Richardson streets call for a concrete parapet wall to keep the ocean from washing away the shoreline and to protect pedestrians and traffic. Also planned are widening the present two lanes and providing a protected pedestrian walk.

License Suspended In Santa Venetia

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control has ordered a 10-day suspension of the on-sale beer and wine license of Raymond and Eugenie Coscarat, 405 North San Pedro Boulevard, Santa Venetia, on charges of sale to a minor and permitting a minor to consume. The suspension takes effect March 17.

"Of this year's total budget," he said, "1.54 billion dollars is proposed in direct expenditures for young people—in education, in the Youth Authority, in the youth conservation program, aid to needy children, the crippled children's program and other categories."

Brown reserved $1,384,683,000, or 42.4 per cent of the entire budget, for education.

He noted that it carries 51 million dollars in additional school subsidies based on normal growth. It also provides an extra 25 million dollars voted by the 1963 legislature to help local districts.

The governor proposed still another 35 million dollars but only if tied to his renewed plea to enact a countywide school equalization plan. This, by itself, would raise 27.5 million dollars.

The California Teachers Assn. contends that the school allocations recommended by Brown aren't enough—and that he's trying to make the total look like more than it really is.

Brown's income tax proposal would eliminate payments for an estimated 120,000 of the lowest income bracket, and offer a cut for an additional 990,000.

The governor also called for legislation to close a legal loophole in insurance company taxes that he said costs the state 2.5 million dollars a year. He termed it a tax reform. Republicans said it actually was a tax increase.

Under present law, Brown said insurance companies can deduct property taxes for an entire building although they may rent out most of it. Under his plan, no further such deductions would be allowed.

On the spending end, Brown asked for $81,000 to establish a State Office of Housing and Community Development to help provide adequate housing, particularly for low income families, old folks and farm workers.

He also made a pitch for $593,000 to create a new Office of California Development. Its job: To promote industrial expansion, trade and tourism.

Other items would: Boost the salaries of top state executives by $213,000 and judges by 1.9 million dollars.

Expand the Short-Doyle program of community mental health clinics.

Establish two rehabilitation centers for people with respiratory ailments.

Include epilepsy as a treatable disease under the crippled children services program.

Earmark more than 31 million dollars to relieve "dangerous overcrowding" in the state's prisons and reformatories.

Hire 85 more highway patrolmen at a cost of 1.3 million dollars a year to cope with what Brown describes as "California's frightening traffic death toll."

Citizens Invite Sheeks, Monardo To Join Panel

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks and vice mayor George D. Monardo of Mill Valley are being asked to participate in a four-member panel discussion sponsored by the Citizens for Good Government at 8 p.m. February 13 in Park School Auditorium.

The other panel members will be Robert D. Huber, former Mill Valley mayor, and Mrs. Elizabeth Rodman, former councilman. Charles Guichard, platform chairman for the citizens committee, will be moderator.

The organization, which met Saturday, decided on the discussion of the Zion report as it relates to city manager form of government, "Secret Meetings of the Council," and the future of Mill Valley in terms of growth and taxes.

The Zion report was made in 1962 by William R. Zion, government research consultant, and dealt with the council-manager system in Mill Valley and recommended changes. The 13-page report is to be distributed at the meeting.

Novato Police To Discuss Delinquents

Juvenile delinquency will be discussed by three Novato police officers at the Novato Chamber of Commerce breakfast at 7:45 a.m. tomorrow in Cloud Five restaurant.

No Decision On Water District Land

The Marin County Planning Commission today delayed for another three months a decision on open area zoning for reservoir areas owned by Marin Municipal Water District.

Planning director B. D. Dobbs said the department was still waiting for completion of a study by either the district or the county staff on what district land should specifically be left out of the proposed zoning.

"By that, we didn't mean 100 per cent of the land," Dobbs said.

District Manager William R. Seeger appeared to say that the proposed zoning would seriously hamper negotiations with the state, which has tentative plans to purchase most of the water district holdings for major enlargement of Tamalpais State Park. He said the price the district can get from the state could depend largely on the zoning.

Robert B. Hatch, supervisor State Division of Beaches and Parks, said the zoning would have no effect on future use by the state for park purposes, but agreed the price might be affected.

He said the state is studying the area, but no definite decision on what lands would be taken could be made for at least six months. However, he agreed a map showing what areas the state does not intend to buy could be given to the county within three months.

Abraham Schwartz of 81 Spring Lane, Fairfax, commented that in the past directors of the water district have repeatedly promised never to sell the district watershed land or other district holdings for development.

"We would rather see the basic rates raised than see this property lost," he declared.

"I'm continually shocked at the time lag asked by public bodies," commented commissioner Felix M. Warburg. "I'm sure a land use map could be prepared in three days by private enterprise." However, he supported the motion by commissioner William F. Upton to hold the matter to May 18.

Mrs. Mary Donnelly of the Marin Conservation League asked for a map showing all the water district's holdings in the county, saying such a map has never been produced in discussions of the open area zoning.

Under the proposed zone, which would be applied to 16,785 acres of wilderness, no development would be allowed except for park purposes. The land surrounds Kent, Alpine, Bon Tempe, Phoenix and Lagunitas lakes, and about 1,633 acres draining into Nicasio reservoir.

Marinite Named To U.S. Post

Mrs. Mercia Leton Kahn, resident of Larkspur 11 years before moving to San Francisco recently, has been named district manager of the Civic Center office of Social Security Administration.

The office, serving residents of part of San Francisco and all of Marin County, is under the U. S. Department of Public Health, Education and Welfare.

Mrs. Kahn currently is also president of Western Gerontological Society and in her new role is the only woman district manager of a large Social Security office west of the Mississippi.

More Papers Taken Out For Councils

One of Novato's most active recreation advocates has taken out nominating petitions for city council, and a perennial candidate has joined council aspirants in Sausalito.

Latest to take out nominating papers in Novato is Mrs. Betty Machado of 1424 Davies Street, former member of the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission. She declined, however, to say flatly she would circulate or file the papers. "I just want to read them," she declared.

Three other sets of nominating papers have been taken out in Novato, none by any of the three councilmen whose terms expire in April.

Four sets of papers have been taken out for city council candidates in Sausalito, but only one of the candidates is known. He is artist Serge Trubach of 631 Bridgeway, who has run for council unsuccessfully twice before.

A new candidate appeared today in Fairfax, George A. Pagni of 6 Ridge Road, manager of a mortgage service company, took petitions to circulate. He is president of the Fairfax Merchants Assn. and a member of the city planning commission.

Man 'Helping' Deputy Held In Bar Theft

Landscape designer Joseph W. Perry, 29, of Marshall, who allegedly tried to send sheriff's deputies off on a wild goose chase, was in Marin County Jail today on suspicion of stealing nearly $500 in cash and checks from a Point Reyes Station bar.

Deputy Sheriff William S. Christensen said he received a call last night from Edwin T. Stevens, bartender at the Silver Dollar, who reported the tavern office and living quarters had been entered by a burglar.

While on his way to investigate, Christensen was stopped by Perry, who excitedly claimed he was chasing the burglar, who had driven off toward Petaluma. Taking Perry along, Christensen called two other deputies, but soon called off the pursuit after questioning Perry further.

Perry said he had been drinking in the bar with friends earlier and heard "glass breaking and a dog barking" and stepped into the office to check. But nobody else in the bar had heard anything, and Perry dashed out to follow the alleged burglar—in a car no one had seen outside.

Stevens said later he found about $500 in checks and cash was missing.

Deputies said they found $203 stuffed in the convertible top of Perry's car. Perry had no explanation as of how it got there.

Backing Car Hurts Girl, 13

Dawn Roxann Risk, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donie O. Risk of 55 Manzanita, Black Point, was bruised on her left leg when she was hit by a car at Second Street and Grant Avenue, Novato, about 5 p.m. Saturday.

Thomas James Masterson, 36, of 35 Rica Vista, Novato, told police he was backing into a parking space on Second Street when his car hit Dawn, who was walking north on Grant Avenue.

She was treated at Novato General Hospital.

Costs Called Lower

Construction cost of the new Del Mar School in the Reed School District is below the state average for similar construction, according to J. Martin Rosse, architect for the district. The average last year was $14.75 a square foot, about $1.25 a square foot higher than the Del Mar School, expected to open soon to seventh and eighth grade students.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Goch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

D. W. CHAPMAN

A Marin County visitor, Dewey Wilson Chapman, 65, of Stockton, died yesterday in a local hospital apparently of a heart attack.

He and his wife, Zula, had spent two days at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Marguerite Montgomery, 1319 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo.

The Marin County coroner's office said Chapman, a retired statistician with California Department of Agriculture, was awaiting breakfast in the home about 9:10 a.m. yesterday when he complained to his wife of a chest pain. He was taken to the hospital where he died about 30 minutes later.

He had resided in California 10 years. Survivors are the wife; two daughters, Mrs. Montgomery and Linda Chapman of Stockton, and a son, Elijah Chapman of Loomis, Placer County.

Funeral and burial will be in Stockton. Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, is in charge of local arrangements.

AGNES BISCHOFF

Mrs. Agnes E. Bischoff, 69, of 24 Pico Vista, Novato, died Saturday at a San Francisco hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Bischoff, a retired employee of the Seattle, Portland and Spokane Railroad, had been living in Marin County for the past 17 months with her sister, Mrs. William S. Pettey of Novato.

She was the widow of Clarence Bischoff of Portland, an employee of the Great Northern Railroad.

A native of Portland, Mrs. Bischoff lived there all of her life until she moved to Novato. She was a Daughter of the Nile, Order of the Eastern Star, in Portland.

Surviving are her sister and a brother, Lester Emerson of San Leandro.

MISS MCCARTHY

Mass for Margurita McCarthy, 72, who died Friday in a local hospital after long illness, will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow in St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today in Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Interment will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

A native of New York City, Miss McCarthy had resided in Marin County five years. She lived at 41 San Pablo Avenue, Santa Venetia.

She leaves no known surviving relative.

HARRINGTON

Christian Science services for Verne S. Harrington, 77, of 35 Shell Road, Mill Valley, were held today at the W. C. Lasswell and Co. funeral home in Daly City.

Harrington died at a local convalescent hospital Friday after a long illness. He had been an employee in the installation department of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. for 35 years.

Cremation was at Olivet Memorial Park, Colma.

out losing grassroots representations."

Edward Eichler, president of Eichler Homes Inc., said he sees a need for countrywide coordination, at least in land planning.

Sleepy Hollow Homes Group Elections Held

Roland L. Hauck Jr. of 133 Van Tassel Court has been elected 1964 president to the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn.

Other officers elected at the quarterly meeting of the membership were: Owen R. Merritt, vice president; Mrs. Thekla Dechent, corresponding secretary; Terry Hauge, recording secretary; and George Ellinger, treasurer.

Herbert A. Brauner, R. Bryant Miley, and Roger F. Morse were elected to two-year terms as directors. Holdover directors are Charles W. Dechent and Sayles A. Turney.

Committee chairman were named as follows: Swimming pool, H. F. Harnsberger; house and grounds, Morris T. Shepherd; bulletin, Mrs. Robin Robinson; entertainment, Burton E. and Doris Milnes; teen club, Gilbert O. Ayron; construction and maintenance, Jack V. Singer; zoning, Raymond Ryason; trees, Harry B. Allen Jr.; membership, Mrs. Aileen Kauer; roads, James A. Blumberg; institutional representative, John W. Morrison, and welfare, Carol W. Craig.

John Blaney, planning consultant from San Francisco, also noted the advantage of coordination in planning. Some small cities have "weaknesses" in the planning program, and if these are continued, then residents of the county cannot all get top quality government services, he pointed out.

Here are some of the other views presented:

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker: The main conflict is economics on the one hand and esthetics and aspirations other than economic on the other. "Each of these interests has its place."

Richard Zettel, research economist at UC Transportation includes both highways and mass transit. The Bay Area Transportation Study Commission, established by the 1963 Legislature, should come up with some solutions.

Movie Cameraman Dies At 62

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — J. Peverell Marley, first husband of actress Linda Darnell and cameraman for "The Ten Commandments," and other films, died yesterday. He was 62.

Marley did the camera work for Miss Darnell's first screen test. They were married in Las Vegas, Nev., in 1943, when he was a sergeant in the Army. They were divorced in 1952.

Survivors include a daughter, Charlotte, he and Miss Darnell adopted in 1948.

Three Die In Heavy Surf Of Sonoma County

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — Heavy surf along the Sonoma County coast claimed three lives in two separate accidents yesterday, the sheriff's office reported.

Mrs. Samie Smith, 23, of Petaluma, and her 2-year-old son, Mark, were swept away by crashing waves at Goat Rock, about 25 miles northwest of here.

The boy's body washed ashore about 15 minutes after he and his mother went under. Mrs. Smith's body is still missing.

Witness told sheriff's deputies that Mrs. Smith was attempting to retrieve her 6-year-old daughter from the water. She was carrying her son in her arms when the waves struck them.

The little girl was rescued by a bystander, but attempts to reach the mother and boy failed.

In the other drowning, Jerry Hamilton, 21, of Pittsburg, the father of two children, was swept off a rock by a wave a short distance offshore at Stewart's point, about 60 miles north west of here.

Woman Makes Second Gift To Elderly

The woman who anonymously donated a house in San Rafael to the county as part of her thanks for the care given her sister through the old age survivors' welfare program, made another gift.

She took $500 in cash to the Civic Center, to be used in cleaning and refurbishing the home, whether it is to be used in the future by the county or sold. Any surplus left from the money, she said, should be distributed to needy aged.

"Make your progress our progress in terms of what you want," Behr concluded.

Vietnam American Camp Is Attacked

SAIGON, Vietnam (AP) — Two guerrillas were killed and one U. S. officer wounded today in the first Viet Cong raid on an American military compound since the Vietnamese war began.

The grenade attack on headquarters of a detachment of 130 officers and men was launched at 4:30 a.m. in the mountain city of Kontum, 260 miles northeast of Saigon.

Nine Vietnamese civil guards detailed to guard the eight-building compound were absent without leave, prompting an investigation to determine if they were involved in the incident.

The Viet Cong casualties were gunned down by an American sentry, Spec. 4 Dale D. Flinn, 24, of Fowler, Kan. He was on duty because the Americans had decided not to depend on Vietnamese security.

Under cover of darkness, four guerrillas cut their way through a barbed wire fence around the compound.

While one guerrilla stood guard at the fence, three others ran toward a building housing field grade officers, who range in rank from major to colonel.

Spotting the intruders, Flinn opened fire with his rifle, but they made it into the building and each tossed one grenade.

One grenade went off in the room of a U. S. officer, wounding him and setting the building afire.

As the terrorists ran for the fence, Flinn opened fire again. They shot back, but missed, and Flinn killed two of them. The other two guerrillas escaped in the darkness.

Prison-Taught Printer Sought In Police Killings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An ex-convict who learned printing in prison was being sought today. Police say he killed two officers who tried to arrest him for trying to pass a forged check.

Police said a nationwide manhunt has been ordered for Leaman Russel Smith, 33, with emphasis on Las Vegas, Nev., Chicago, as well as the Los Angeles area.

Police said Smith, released from Leavenworth federal prison last October, opened fire in a Sears Roebuck store Saturday night, killing Sgt. Charles Paul Monaghan, 37, and officer Robert M. Endler, also 37.

A third policeman, Endel Jurman, 27, and a store clerk, Stephen S. Suzuki, 55, were wounded in the shooting at the store on West Pico Boulevard.

Catholic High Debate Team In Tournament

A Marin Catholic High School student debate team will take part in the third annual debate tournament Friday and Saturday at the University of San Francisco.

Extension of social security benefits to include complete medical care will be subject of the debate. Contests will begin at 10 a.m. Friday in the university's law school building, and division finalists will compete from 4:30 to 7 p.m. Saturday.

Regional Meet Bans Curb On Tree-Cutting

Supervisors from Marin to Del Norte County, Friday gave unanimous support to state highway officials and asked the state not to consider "a restrictive policy prohibiting the cutting of a single redwood for freeway purposes."

The resolution was aimed at a statement last week by Mrs. Margaret Owings of Monterey County, a state park commissioner. At a joint meeting of the State Parks and State Highways Commissions in Sacramento to consider freeway policy through redwood groves, Mrs. Owings demanded "an unbroken policy . . . that no more virgin redwoods in state parks be cut down for freeways."

Supervisors of the Redwood Empire, meeting in Petaluma, said such a policy could "totally disrupt highway planning and construction." They said the State Division of Highways has the paramount responsibility "to construct safe and adequate highways, taking into consideration all facets of public interest."

On the motion of Supervisor Harold Del Ponte of Del Norte County, the resolution was forwarded to both commissions and to the governor.

Supervisor Norman Robertson of Humboldt County objected to further property being taken off county tax rolls and Supervisor Leigh Shoemaker of Sonoma County said he feared too much would go for "bureaucrats." Supervisor Andy Mellon of Del Norte County demanded the state develop what property it already owns before buying new acreage.

COMPUTER PROGRAMMING TRAINING

PROGRAMS FOR HIGH SCHOOL AND COLLEGE GRADUATES

AUTOMATION INSTITUTE ANNOUNCES SPRING & SUMMER SCHEDULES FOR VOCATIONAL TRAINING IN COMPUTER PROGRAMMING. THE COURSE PREPARES MEN AND WOMEN TO DO SCIENTIFIC, BUSINESS OFFICE, AND OTHER KINDS OF WORK ON ELECTRONIC COMPUTERS.

APPROX. 45 HOURS ACTUAL MACHINE USE ON IBM 1401 AND MONROBOT XI SYSTEMS

Two general purpose systems are used to teach the course. These systems are ideal to train students in every conceivable phase of the computer programming art. One employs a fixed word length, drum storage, and an accumulator similar to the IBM 7090, IBM 7070, IBM 650, etc. The other system, the 1401, employs a variable word length and core storage. Both card and tape programming are emphasized. This computer programming course offers more to the student than any other single course offered today. The student can truly represent himself as a programmer upon its successful completion.

ALSO UPON SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION OF THE PROGRAM THE INSTITUTE IS AUTHORIZED BY THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION TO CONFER A CERTIFICATE OF COMPLETION IN COMPUTER PROGRAMMING I—II—III

INCOME TAX FACTS

How To File Returns That Please The Electric Brains

By P. J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

The Internal Revenue Service receives many millions of tax returns each year. More and more are processing these returns by machine methods. You can help them in their job, and save yourself a possible audit at the same time, by making sure your tax returns are completely and accurately filled out. Here are some suggestions that will help insure the smooth and easy handling of your return:

P. J. Wikel

Always spell your name the same way from year to year, and be sure to show your Social Security number accurately.

Make sure you check the appropriate blocks that show your exemptions.

Answer all questions on the return.

Be certain to make number entries on the correct lines. An incorrect placement of one item might cause your return to be examined.

Send a separate check with each return. If you file Forms 1040 and 1040-ES in the same envelope, make separate checks for each, and attach them to the face of the returns.

Make sure returns are signed properly. If you file a joint return, both husband and wife must sign. An improperly signed return will be rejected and sent back to you.

If you itemize your deductions, and list them on a separate schedule, be sure it is firmly attached to the return and that the totals of each category of deductions (contributions, interest, taxes, etc.) are shown in the appropriate lines on page 2 of the tax return form.

You should show your name and Social Security number on any schedules you attach to your tax returns.

If you file separate returns for husband and wife, please do not staple together, just attach by clip.

Attach all schedules inside the return. Only Forms W-2 and the check should be attached to the face of the return.

The names of all children claimed as dependents should be shown.

The number of exemptions claimed on page 1, should agree with the number of individuals listed.

Attach all forms W-2 to the face of the return. If it is absolutely certain you cannot obtain a form W-2, please attach full explanation. In such instances, if the withholdings are out of proportion to the wages, the processing of the return will be delayed.

If any portion of wages is excludable as received under a wage continuation plan for sickness or injury, attach statement showing computation and give full particulars. Use Internal Revenue Service form 2440 for computing sick pay.

Please be careful on the arithmetic. The most common mistake made on last year's returns was in arithmetic—adding, subtracting, multiplying, dividing.

For 1961, over 900,000 returns were wrong, and the government had to send back over 66 million dollars which taxpayers had overpaid.

Many Marin Residents Appointed, Transferred In Month Of January

January is traditionally heavy in new appointments and transfers, and this year it was no exception, with changes involving some Marin residents right up through last week.

CHARLES H. ROACH of Lucas Valley has been named Southern California regional sales manager for Crown Zellerbach Corp., and will be responsible for marketing newspaper in the Los Angeles zone. He has been divisional sales promotion and advertising manager for newspaper and printing papers in San Francisco. Roach joined Crown Zellerbach in 1956.

JAY A. BARBEAU of Lucas Valley takes over as vice president in sales for J. W. Marwedel, San Francisco. He will continue to manage all sales activities of the supply division and is assuming responsibilities in Marwedel's new division — Marco machine tools.

WILLIAM B. MANUEL of San Anselmo has been elected vice president of California Ink Co. He will continue to serve as treasurer, a post he has held for the past five years, along with management of the paint colorants and vehicles department. Prior to joining California Ink he was executive vice president of Gantner and Matern.

BANK OF AMERICA promotions in Marin have moved Richard L. Martin, assistant cashier and operations officer at the Hamilton Air Force Base office to the Mill Valley branch. He joined the bank in 1958 at San Anselmo. Succeeding him at the air force base office is Joseph A. Rusak, assistant cashier from the Cloverdale branch. Rusak has been with the bank since 1956 when he joined the Healdsburg office.

FARMERS INSURANCE GROUP has brought Fred Temps from Fresno to manage its office at 4240 Redwood Highway, San Rafael. Agents Richard Lee and Philip Moteni have opened a new office at Second and B Streets, San Rafael.

ARCHITECTURAL SERVICES, INC., a new firm opened at 1535 Sansome Street, San Francisco, has two Ross residents among its principals — Webster Otis, president, and Van Norden Logan, vice president. Third member of the firm is M. L. Crimmins, secretary-treasurer.

Active Trading Mart Indicator

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed mixed today in fairly active trading.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.1 million shares compared with 4 million Friday.

Most key stocks showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point.

A 3-point loss by Sears, Roebuck depressed the averages along with a drop of nearly a point by American Telephone.

On the other hand, gains of a point were made by such key stocks as General Electric, Du Pont and Union Carbide.

The list was thoroughly scrambled with Brunswick continuing to attract renewed demand as it rose nearly a point in trading brisk enough to put it among the volume leaders. Also active, Helene Curtis slipped nearly a point.

Transamerica rose more than 3, CBS spurted 2 points. Crown Zellerbach made a similar gain. Greyhound rose more than a point.

Chesapeake and Ohio slipped more than a point. Losses of about a point were shown also by U.S. Gypsum and Royal Dutch.

Jones and Laughlin, ahead a point, was the best gainer among the top steelmakers, which were ahead slightly on balance.

Polaroid fell more than 2 and Control Data more than a point.

Rails were generally lower. Cigarette stocks were mostly unchanged, with Liggett and Myers up nearly a point.

Prices moved irregularly higher in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Government bond prices edged slightly higher in moderate trading. Corporate bonds were mixed.

Rapid Transit, Fill On Special Agenda

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Bay area problems — from the filling of San Francisco Bay to rapid transit for Marin and San Mateo counties — went to the legislature to day for special session action. (See also story, page 26).

The governor limited the subject of San Francisco Bay to consideration of a proposed study commission to investigate the effects of filling and draw a plan for the bay's future. Some lawmakers had urged a moratorium on filling during the time of the study.

Brown made it plain that he still opposes separate new transit facilities splintering off the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, but backed plans to improve transit in Marin and San Mateo counties.

The governor vetoed bills to create separate districts last year.

"Marin County convinced us that they could set up a subsidy arrangement with existing carriers," said Paul Ward, the governor's legislative secretary.

Ward said the governor would favor a similar arrangement for San Mateo County, making use of existing rail and bus lines.

Brown vetoed the 1963 bills on grounds they would overlap the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

"If a district makes heavy investments and gets capital facilities it becomes a vested interest and almost impossible to dissolve," Ward said. "Then you never get integrated," referring to hopes that other bay area counties ultimately join the transit district.

COUNTY EDUCATION TAX APPEAL MADE

42 Per Cent Of Brown's Budget For Schools,
An Increase Of 11 Per Cent Over Present

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown, heading for certain opposition, today submitted a $1,384,683,000 education budget and asked legislators to approve a previously defeated countywide tax.

The request — 42.4 per cent of the governor's total 3.66-billion-dollar budget — is 11.3 per cent more than current year spending.

Brown wants $923,059,000 for aid to local districts, up 10.3 per cent from last year's request. It's needed for 4.2 million students — almost one out of every four Californians — enrolled in kindergarten through junior college.

Of the increase, 51 million dollars is required by law to pay for the 234,500 additional students in public school classrooms. Another 25 million dollars comes from a 1963 appropriation for use this year.

On top of this, Brown seeks an additional 35 million dollars on the condition that the legislature approve countywide equalization. This plan would raise 27.5 million dollars more by requiring every district to set a minimum tax. Wealthy districts with more tax receipts than they need would share the money with poorer districts.

With the bumper crop of post World War II babies reaching college age, Brown asked for 194.5 million dollars to support the University of California — up 14.6 per cent — and 130.2 million dollars for state colleges, a 15.6 per cent increase.

Here are some of the requests with operating budgets first and construction funds second.

Sonoma State College — $1,281,574 and $4,657,600.

San Francisco State College — $11,128,703 and $1,603,800.

University of California — At Berkeley, $66,508,818 and $7,736,900; at Davis, $26,419,017 and $6,861,900.

Gun Curbs Not Included In Session

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The special session of the California Legislature that convened today won't consider new curbs on firearms.

Guns control was the most notable subject missing from the 44-item agenda.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown had indicated after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy that he would seek more restrictive laws.

But his decision not to place the issue before the 1964 legislature postpones possible state action until the general session next year.

Paul Ward, the governor's legislative secretary, said he could not find a practical approach to registration, and "there was nothing significant we could do" on mail order sales pending congressional action.

State Expects Players To Bet $600 Million

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state's budget makers are betting that California horse players will wager nearly 600 million dollars in the year starting July 1. The tax collector will get 45.3 million dollars if they do.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget estimates a total parimutuel handle of $95.32 million dollars for state tracks, an increase of 28.4 million dollars more than the current year estimate.

The recent strike at Santa Anita won't affect either estimate, since five days of racing were authorized to make up for the days lost in the strike.

The Finance Department said betting on the horses usually goes up or down with personal income, and 1964-65 is expected to be a good year for wage earners.

The increased expectations are due in part to authorization for a spring quarter horse racing meet at the state fair.

Tax collections during the current year, which ends June 30, are expected to total 42.96 million dollars. A year ago they were 41.6 million dollars.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®. In addition to actually shrinking piles — Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

$7,676,256 Budgeted For San Quentin

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget for 1964-65 includes $7,676,256 for operation of San Quentin Prison and another $905,193 for capital outlay construction projects.

The new operations budget represents an increase of $71,758, or .9 per cent, over the current year. It is based on an expected average population of 4315, or 105 less than the average inmate population this year. All of the decrease would be in the general institution population, with the population at the narcotic clinic, 20 inmates, and the reception-guidance center, 250, remaining the same.

The budget provides for 559.4 positions at the prison next year, a decrease of seven from this year. There will be nine new custodial positions, including eight because of overcrowding.

A number of positions will be deleted this year, including 13.2 positions in camps, due to the transfer of Crystal Creek and Deadwood Camps to the California Conservation Center.

The capital outlay budget includes $603,300 for construction of an inmate activity building and $241,000 for replacement of two 39-year-old boilers with one new one. Minor capital outlay projects include construction of a field house for the new athletic field, $5220; replacement of x-ray equipment, $34,500; replacement of electrocardiograph equipment, $10,500 and minor alterations, $10,673.

Treated For Cuts

The car was driven by Samuel Taylor Darling, 17, of 427 Summit Avenue.

'ELEPHANT TRAINS' ON ANGEL ISLAND?

Historic Sites And Buildings To Be Saved,
State Beaches And Parks Officials Declare

Angel Island visitors, who are now restricted to the Ayala Cove (Hospital Cove) area, may be able to roam the rest of the island on "elephant-train type" of public transportation by summer of 1965.

This hope was expressed today by state beaches and park officials in Sacramento, as the governor submitted his budget proposal to the state legislature.

At the same time, state officials assured the Independent-Journal that historic sites and buildings will be saved.

The new budget includes $253,350 for continued development of Hospital Cove and for area restoration, particularly in the West Garrison area closest to Tiburon. The project for Hospital Cove consists of landscaping, construction of comfort station, entrance gate, redwood benches and directional signs.

"We definitely plan to preserve the historic sites," declared Earl P. Hanson, deputy chief of park management, Division of Beaches and Parks in Sacramento. He said $10,000 has been included in the new budget for "historic building and archeological survey."

The main purpose of the survey is to see that historic monuments are not destroyed in the clean-up projects, Hanson explained. "We want to determine which are important and what to do with them."

Gordon T. Kishbaugh, district superintendent for state beaches and parks in six north bay counties, said an old guardhouse and a paymaster's building in the East Garrison will be saved. "We are also thinking of keeping the old chapel in the East Garrison."

"We may possibly remove buildings of World War II vintage," said Kishbaugh. But older buildings, dating back to the 1800's, will be carefully surveyed, and representative structures saved, he explained. Most of the old gun replacements will be retained.

Some decrepit buildings must be razed and others cleaned up to assure public safety and eliminate fire hazards, Hanson and Kishbaugh pointed out.

If the "area restoration" money in the new budget is approved by the Legislature, Hanson said he hopes the West Garrison area can be opened up to the public by spring or summer of 1965.

"We are also thinking of some form of public transportation on the island, an elephant-train type of thing," Hanson added. He said this public transportation would probably be by concession to a private operator, who would charge a small fee for sightseers.

At present, only the Hospital Cove area is open to the public. Docking facilities for about 20 small boats are available, but these will be improved this year through a $111,000 allocation made by the legislature last year.

An old collapsed pier will be replaced and docking facilities added by August of this year.

Two deep wells provide water for the island, and these should be sufficient for the foreseeable future, said Hanson.

San Rafael Must Face Up To Its Traffic Problems

The San Rafael city council is due to consider issuance of another $250,000 worth of parking bonds at its meeting tonight.

The proceeds would be used to finance construction of second decks on two city parking lots, the one at Fifth and C and the one at Third and Loutens.

The two projects would add 127 additional parking spaces—the equivalent of the total spaces along three and a half blocks of Fourth Street.

The new spaces will cost more than $20,000 per space.

Will it all be worth this high cost?

Traffic congestion and lack of parking at peak shopping hours have a stranglehold on downtown San Rafael.

It's a simple matter of survival as a major shopping district.

When a patient is in desperate straits, does anyone question whether costly medical care is worth it to save the patient?

If a ship or plane is missing at sea, does anyone question the cost of sending the Navy and the Coast Guard out in force to try to save the sinking vessel?

The answer seems plain: if you care enough about San Rafael's future, almost no cost can be too high.

It hurts to recall, however, that well over a decade ago the city employed outside planning consultants to advise a course of action on parking and traffic.

If those recommendations had been followed, we would now have even more parking than this new expenditure would provide; we would have far less traffic congestion, and the total price would be less by far than we ultimately are going to have to pay if the mess is to be cleaned up.

So the question now is NOT whether we should move ahead with this project; we should. The question IS whether we have yet begun to think big enough in this matter of parking.

Further, in the last Christmas rush (always a glimpse into the future, for it tells us how it will be every day in the not-too-distant future) the trouble was as much in traffic congestion as in shortage of parking.

San Rafael must come to grips with the downtown traffic problem, and soon.

Sprouting Kale Month

February was named for a minor god, Februs. The Early Dutch called it Dry-Sticks Month. And the Anglo-Saxons Sprouting Kale Month.

Marinites don't go in much for kale, but February is a time of much sprouting and growth in our gardens. It might be called a time of awakening.

February is often a wet time — but Marinites welcome its arrival as an introduction to the floral joys of spring.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Narcotics Advisory Council May Do California Public Some Good

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Among the many advisory commissions in state government, one which may do the public some good is the nine-man narcotics rehabilitation advisory council, recently named by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The state legislature created this advisory body at the 1963 session. Its purpose is to study the operation of the California rehabilitation center at Corona, (Riverside County), and all of the research programs conducted there. It also is charged with evaluating and interpreting the narcotics detention and treatment program.

Irony In Electronics

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Growth of employment in electronics, California's largest manufacturing industry, increased eight-fold between 1950 and 1962, according to a report by the state Division of Labor Statistics and Research. The electronics employment, however, dropped off in 1963, the report said.

SOME YEARS AGO, the legislature provided for an experimental project which was set up at Corona, to see what, if anything can be done to break the drug habit in addicts, and thus assist society in working toward elimination of the evils brought on by drug addiction.

At present more than 1,300 addicts are undergoing treatment and another 577 are in the community out-patient program. This is a program in which the commission keeps track of the addict, giving him regular tests to determine if he is going back on drugs, and if so, authority is provided to put the patient back in the clinic.

It is difficult at the moment, Governor Brown said recently, to determine whether the treatment process is going to be a success or not. The state runs into the constitutional rights of convicted addicts, many have been freed on writs of habeas corpus, and one of the problems now is to convince judges that they should send more patients to the clinic.

THESE ARE some of the problems the new advisory commission will consider.

All of the governor's appointees are familiar with the processes of battling the inroads of drug addiction. One member is W. J. Hunt, Gardena newspaper publisher, now chairman of the Los Angeles County narcotics and dangerous drugs commission. For many years, Hunt has been sponsoring improvements in the handling of the drug program, and some of his earlier work with the Elks Club served to bring about stronger narcotic laws.

ANOTHER MEMBER is Frank M. Brown of 40 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, brother of the governor, Frank Brown has a law office in San Francisco. He handled narcotics prosecutions for many years while in the San Francisco district attorney's office. He was a member of the governor's advisory committee.

Other appointees include a woman police sergeant, a television commentator, two doctors, and a labor leader, all of whom have had experience in the field. The combined experiences, the governor hopes, will serve to result in the enactment of an even better program for rehabilitation.

Recco 17 Unit Is Re-Forming

Recco 17, an organization which was instrumental in getting the former Mill Valley garbage dump for a recreation area, is re-forming. It will act as a coordinating group to get contributions in materials and equipment to do reconstruction work on the newly acquired center building on Project 17.

Tonight the city council plans to authorize the appointment of Recco 17, which stands for the 17-acre recreational area, to coordinate its work with City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer. The city council will hold its first citizens forum at 7:30 p.m., a question and answer period to permit citizens to express personal viewpoints on general issues. The regular council business will be taken up at 8 p.m.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Stunents, Facility Sould Be Suspended

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I feel that the student body of San Rafael High School should thank the Independent-Journal for reporting the facts on the smoking break. As a student of S.R.H.S., I would like to thank the I. J. for informing me that the break bell was known as the "weed whistle"; also that the break suspension would go into effect on the first of next week insted of the first of this week. I know that the students and faculty were under the impression that the new term had already started as of the 27th of January. We also thought that the break had been supened on the 27th.

I am also deeply indebted to the I. J. for informing me that those people in dresses, who go out to Union Street, are not girls. (maybe Russian spys?).

Charge $1 Toll To End Bridge Problem

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is with increasing amazement that I contemplate the naivete of city, county and state officials as they revolve around the problem of the approaching traffic saturation of the Golden Gate Bridge. A few of these worthies should spend 10 minutes a day during commute hours, observing the few passengers which threaten to overwhelm the bridge and freeway. They might then turn to simpler means of solving the problem than spending up to half a billion dollars for an additional bridge!

How about charging $1 per car for such instances during commute hours? One passenger with each former lone driver would avoid the charge and would reduce the traffic considerably. Two passengers, and we'd cut the traffic 30-50 per cent. Along with the $1 toll, we might subsidize Greyhound to supply ample rush-hour service at half the present rates, and save tremendously over the carrying charges for a new bridge and freeway.

Let's urge our public officials to recognize the basic reason for our clogged highways, and do something about it, instead of dreaming of fantastically expensive means of letting our unthinking or selfish brethren continue in their erring ways.

Civic Center Must Have Jillion Lights

Editor, Independent-Journal:

If it were not for Bill Fusselman and George Ludy on the board of supervisors right today Marin would be under a totalitarian rule.

Hot off the MCCA (Marin Council for Civic Affairs) press comes this crock of corn: "Bill Fusselman has done his utmost to thwart the orderly growth of Marin County."

Do you remember with what bravado and corn Vera Schultz said "The county administrator and his office will only cost us about $30,000 a year?" Alan Bruce gets $1,300 a month and his office has reached or topped the $85,000 mark. Are lies orderly, oh great and mighty MCCA?

Who else knows the history and background of Marin better than Bill Fusselman? The younger generation and the newcomers to Marin are so welcome, but why not listen to a man like Bill Fusselman and George Ludy too. Say, these guys are seldom found anymore, in fact they are becoming darn near extinct because they have a heart and a head and use both of them.

Supervisor Leydecker hardly warmed up his chair as one of the board, when he started the ball rolling and has kept pushing it ever since to crown County Administrator Alan Bruce king. The I-J was giving an account of how the supervisors answered the suggestion of the 1963 Grand Jury. Each answer was from Bruce.

When poor Mitch (Co. Auditor-Controller Mitchell) couldn't sing it, and make it sound one speck better, that our undistributed fund was about out of money; Bruce wasn't too concerned. First he calls up the Medical and Welfare Departments for an accounting. This time it appears Probation missed catching it. These three departments are the only ones who cannot possibly blue-print their needs for the coming year. Only God can know how many people will be sick or in need or poor kids make like delinquents, or parents beat the kids to it.

I like that "hole in the hose" type fountain in front of old Taj, down near the post office. And that same type fountain squirting out of the roof looks eery. Passing old Taj Mahal almost every day I get a snort out of all those outside lights burning all around the roof and dome. Bet that old bulb changer is busy, because there must be a jillion lights.

Rockefeller Party Poorly Planned

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The arrangements were deplorable for handling the Rockefellers and the crowds attracted to Peacock Gap Country Club Tuesday night (Jan. 28).

How very ridiculous it was not to have a speaker's platform, or at least some elevation where Rockefeller could be seen. He was at floor level like the crowd who were seeking to catch a glimpse of the candidate.

The arrangement committee repeatedly apologized for their unorganized inefficiencies. First, it was "Line forms to my right"—a minute later, "Line forms to my left." Crash! Utter confusion!

If this is an example of how the Republican campaign is to be handled in Marin County, we are in for a real licking next November.

I think I will give up and join the Democrats.

Saturn I Rocket Shot Puts U.S.

Even With (Maybe Ahead Of) Russ

WASHINGTON — After a long, hurtful delay in getting going after the first Russian Sputnik, the successful launching of the Saturn I rocket puts the United States even with—perhaps ahead of—the Soviet Union.

What counts now is that we keep going in the steady, orderly mastery of outer space and not be put off by the soporific words of Premier Nikita Khrushchev who has blandly remarked that no Soviet astronaut is scheduled to go to the moon "in the near future."

Of course not. "Near future" is not the target. But nothing could be more wishful than to deflect the U. S. space program on the say-so of Moscow or to assume that Khrushchev is scratching the Kremlin from the race.

The Saturn shot is especially significant because at this point it puts us ahead where we have lagged most in the past—the development of sufficient rocket thrust to put heavy satellites into orbit. Saturn-I has now hurled 38,000 pounds into space.

THE NEXT STEP in the U. S. moon probe can now be undertaken in a few months. This 16-story, two-stage, Saturn booster now has proved its fitness to be used for the first unmanned orbital flights of the three-man capsules designed for the Apollo mission to the moon. It confirms the usefulness of liquid fuel which provides more than one-third better performance than solid fuel.

This means that the major advantage which the Soviets have had so long and which has yielded them their principal space spectaculars—the long Russian lead in rocket power—is now a thing of the past. Saturn-I was heavier than six railroad diesel engines and it did its job. It lofted the nose cone smoothly and accurately into orbit. Those who have been working with such dedication and skill to make it possible can now breathe a sigh of relief—and turn to the next task with confidence.

There should be no minimizing what the Soviets have already done. They have attained pioneering successes in space. We can't afford to assume that they will willingly dissipate any of their competitive advantages. They have made more attempts to probe the planets than the United States. They have more pilot flying time in space. They have put much larger spacecraft into earth orbit.

BUT THE U. S. accomplishments have been more diverse. We have put almost four times as many spacecraft into orbit as the Soviets. We have made far more progress in the application of space technology in communications, weather, and navigation. We both have compiled a large volume of scientific data about outer space and neither is significantly ahead. As Dr. Edward C. Welsh, executive secretary of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, puts it, "The space race continues and it will be a long one."

The Soviets are not going to rest on their launching pads. Khrushchev has never said that the USSR has no interest or intention of going to the moon. He hedged his not-so-casual statements by stating that the Soviet astronauts were not going to be sent to the moon "without adequate preparation." Neither are ours.

ALL I AM suggesting is that there is no basis for relaxing our efforts and certainly no reason whatsoever to shape our space program to fit Khrushchev's let's-take-it-easy comments.

They are not binding on him and they had better not be binding on us. He is not our best adviser.

The moon landing is not the prime objective. The prime objective must be to travel the highways of outer space so thoroughly that no nation can deny their freedom to the United States.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

World Bank 'Soft' Loan Faces Trouble

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The chances are 100 to 1 you aren't aware of it, but a big chunk of foreign aid spending already has been voted by the Senate.

While Congress (after some six weeks) is still awaiting the recommendations of President Lyndon B. Johnson's special interdepartmental committee to "reorganize" the widely-assailed foreign aid program, the administration has rammed through the Senate a 312-million-dollar foreign aid bill.

This approximately one-third of a billion dollars is in addition to the 3.4 billion dollars the president listed for economic and military foreign aid in his budget message last week.

The 312 million dollars is to increase this country's share of the funds of the Independent Development Assn.—a "soft loan" agency of the World Bank.

ESTABLISHED IN 1960 with a one-billion-dollar fund, of which the U. S. put up 320 million dollars and other World Bank members 423 million dollars, IDA so far has loaned 554 million dollars—most of it (300 million dollars) to India. The new money is to increase IDA's funds by 750 million dollars, with other nations contributing 438 million dollars.

Avowed purpose of IDA is to help so-called "undeveloped" countries. It makes 50-year interest-free loans, with a three-fourths of 1 per cent annual service charge. (It costs the U. S. Treasury around 4 per cent to borrow money.) But virtually all IDA borrowers already are receiving large amounts of U.S. economic and military aid, as follows: Pakistan, Turkey, South Korea, Formosa, Jordan, Chile, Colombia, Haiti, Ethiopia, Sudan, Tunisia.

ALL THESE countries, including India, are in arrears on United Nations assessments. As of Dec. 31, 1963, they owed more than 16 million dollars.

A bipartisan group of senators made a determined fight to hold up action on the 312-million-dollar bill on the ground it should be considered as part of the whole foreign aid program.

"What's the rush and why the hurry?" demanded Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.). "We ought to stop and take a longer look. We should not pass this bill until we make our decision later this year on the whole foreign assistance program. We should look at it as a total package, and not segmentize it in this way. This is a serious mistake, because not a single senator, including the majority leader, knows what the administration's program for foreign aid is."

SENATOR MORSE's motion to send the measure back to the foreign relations committee was defeated 37-to-33—a significantly close margin that bodes ill for the president's proposed 3.4-billion-dollar foreign aid budget.

Dog Takes Life In Stride While Librarian Fails To Find Book

THERE IS A FOX terrier named Princess who lives at 77 Rose Avenue in Mill Valley with a friend, Sharon Cawley, 8.

Princess, born last April Fool's day, is a dog of dogs because she walks down hill on her front paws. She also takes the steps this way.

"We live on a steep hill," says Mrs. Cawley, "and Princess goes behind our house to view the valley. When she comes down it's on her front feet." Asked why, Mrs. Cawley said "it may be because she can't stand to get her feet wet or muddy. She shakes her feet when they're muddy."

THE LARGEST DOG we ever met in Mill Valley is Cuddles, a St. Bernard, owned by Karl Fast. Fast says his dog weighs about 175 pounds, is a year old and Placerville-born. Fast's two children can ride on him, he said. The dog eats dry dog food which Fast buys by the 50-pound bag. "I don't think he eats so much more than the average dog," says Fast.

Sgt. Stan Kelly of Sausalito, who was bitten on each hand last week by an unusual man, has a Maltese dog named Timmie who sits up and begs for beef jerky in the Old Mill Tavern.

Mrs. Mary Lang of Santa Venetia has an idea that, despite Panama and Viet Nam, "the world is going to be all right" because of her recent "adventure in international relations."

She said her husband ordered a Sealyham from England for her for Christmas. He paid in pounds through Bank of America.

BUT THE DOG could not be sent at Christmas because the English Kennel Club board had to approve and it did not meet before Christmas. Then the board approved.

Mrs. Lang went to Councilman George Blackwell of Mill Valley, former English citizen, who said "I know a pilot . . ." But the pilot was going to South America.

Pan American agreed to fly the Sealyham, now named Bogie, by jet in 12 hours and the dog was brought via the Margot Roy Dog Escort Service. At San Francisco Airport the Langs met a boxer en route to Hong Kong and two poodles en route to Tokyo. They got Bogie through customs in two hours.

Bogie, whose pedigree name is Shendon Sunray, was in a "beautiful box," said Mrs. Lang with feeding instructions and a sign: "This is Sunray. Pet her and talk to her. She is a friendly little lass." You can see how, after the cables, telephone calls, letters and papers, Mrs. Lang can believe in a stranger's kindness and that the world will turn out all right.

THE MILL VALLEY library, accustomed to unusual requests, received this one the other day from Eric W. Johnson, vice principal, Germantown Friends School, Philadelphia:

"John Boles, head of our biology department, who used to live in your area, remembers an excellent book on sex that he saw in your library. I'm about to write a book on this subject and I would like to know the title of the book Mr. Boles found so excellent."

"I wonder if you would be able to recognize it from his description. He says it is for about fifth or sixth grade level. It is illustrated with simple line drawings and it is wider than it is tall."

Librarian Dorothy Thomas said she replied to Johnson, "I'm sorry. We couldn't find the book."

ART BUCHWALD It's About Time Our High School Students Decided Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON — Many people are terribly distressed over the problem of the Panama Canal. Because the Panamanians want their flag to fly with the American flag and because the American high school children in the Panama Canal Zone want the American flag to fly alone, it has been suggested that we build a new canal.

Some of the more indignant American citizens have gone even further and suggested that we fill up the Panama Canal with sand so the Panamanians can't use it once we leave.

THERE IS A LOT to be said for building a new canal to spite the Panamanians. After all, if it weren't for us they wouldn't have anything to fly a flag over, and it's about time we allowed our high school students to make foreign policy abroad.

The question is where can we build it. It has been suggested that we build the new canal in Nicaragua.

As everyone knows, Nicaragua is a very peaceful country and they would be delighted to have us build a there without insisting on the Panamanian flag's flying over it. They would be satisfied just to have the Nicaraguan flag fly instead.

THE NEXT PROBLEM is how do you dig a new canal? It has been suggested that you do it with atomic explosions. The trouble is that we have signed a test ban treaty with Russia which prevents us from exploding atomic devices in the open air.

The solution to this problem is to sub-contract the canal-digging to the French, who have refused to sign the test ban treaty. The French have been having a lot of trouble with African countries over their tests in the Sahara, so they would probably be delighted to move their tests to the Western hemisphere.

ALL RIGHT, so it's now agreed upon. We will finance the canal in Nicaragua providing the French dig it. Once the canal is built, we will work out a zone on either side of it which we will call the Nicaraguan Canal Zone. This zone will be restricted to Americans and servants working for their families.

The zone will pay the Nicaraguans who work on the canal a salary commensurate with their own living standard, and the Americans will be paid on a scale equal to what they would make in the United States.

In this way there wouldn't be any friction between the two.

THE AMERICANS would have their own schools, their own PX's their own movies, and their own golf courses, each with its own flag pole. A provision would be written in the treaty that only the American flag could fly from these poles, which would satisfy most of the zone's teenagers.

There is always the possibility that the Nicaraguan students urged on by Castro supporters, might start trouble in the zone.

If this happens we'll close up the Nicaraguan canal and start digging one in Mexico.

Study Asked Of Pesticides On Fish, Game

SACRAMENTO — Another "hold-the-line" budget totalling 13.3 million dollars, was proposed for California's Fish and Game programs by Gov. Edmund G. Brown today for the year starting July 1.

One of the few new programs would be a $169,000 lab at the Nimbus fish hatchery near Sacramento to study effects of pollution and pesticides on fish and wildlife.

Total spending for the Fish and Game Department and the Wildlife Conservation Board would be $13,331,792, a drop of $65,428 from estimated spending for the current year ending June 30.

Wildlife Conservation projects would continue to stress making hunting and fishing grounds available to the public through access programs. A total of $789,600 is asked for the board's projects, compared with 1.2 million dollars this year.

The operating budget of the Fish and Game Department rises $329,697 to 11.2 million dollars but the department would have a net decrease of six employees to 1,135.

Not mentioned in the budget is $380,000 in salary increases granted last year which is expected to erase a projected $154,000 surplus and plunge the department $226,000 into the red. The deficit would be made up from reserves.

State Labor Force

SACRAMENTO — California entered 1964 with a labor force of about 6,928,000, according to the state Department of Industrial Relations.

State Budget Gets Bigger

SACRAMENTO — How California budgets have grown in recent years:

1947-48	$ 683,710,643
1951-52	$1,016,883,002
1956-57	$1,736,112,983
1958-59	$2,114,297,269
1961-62	$2,592,304,521
1962-63	$2,885,523,247
1963-64	$3,250,401,969
1964-65	$3,651,598,639

The totals are for the budgets as submitted to the legislature. Since 1957, they include bond funds.

18.6 Cents Of Each Dollar Slated For Health, Welfare

SACRAMENTO — California's proposed new budget will spend 18.6 cents of every state dollar for public health and welfare in 1964-65.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown asked the Legislature today for 607.1 million dollars for the departments of mental hygiene, rehabilitation, public health and social welfare, 69.2 million dollars more than last year.

Social welfare gets the largest chunk—37.1 million dollars, or just over 61 per cent.

The new Department of Rehabilitation, set up by the 1963 legislature to provide vocational rehabilitation and services for the handicapped, will get 5.8 million.

Some 184.6 million dollars is earmarked for the Department of Mental Hygiene, and 45.5 million dollars for the Department of Public Health.

In addition to these state funds, the federal government will grant 456.3 million dollars

Revenue Proposals Pegged To Tax Cut

SACRAMENTO — California's anticipated 3.2 billion dollar 1964-65 fiscal year revenue is pegged to a quick federal tax cut, lack of major international crises, but no marked easing of world tensions.

In making his annual economic forecast in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 3.65 billion dollar budget, Finance Director Hale Champion said that part of the national economic improvement "rests upon enactment of the federal tax reduction program early in 1964, reactive to Jan. 1." The bill now is nearing a Senate vote after House passage, and congressional observers have predicted it will reach President Lyndon B. Johnson sometime in March.

"The projected growth in economic activity presupposes neither major international crises nor a marked easing of world tensions leading to widespread disarmament," Champion commented.

Nevertheless, he figured as a plus factor "some relaxation" accompanying the partial nuclear test ban signed in 1963.

Champion said he expects a decrease in space and defense-related activity this year and a leveling off in defense expenditures next year.

California, he warned, can expect to be the target of heavy economic repercussions as a result of the declining growth rate in defense and space industries. He noted the estimate that California has about 30 per cent of all defense contracts.

"The relatively greater population growth here should," he predicted, "continue to hold California's income gains above the nation's, but the margin of difference is not expected to be as great as in recent years."

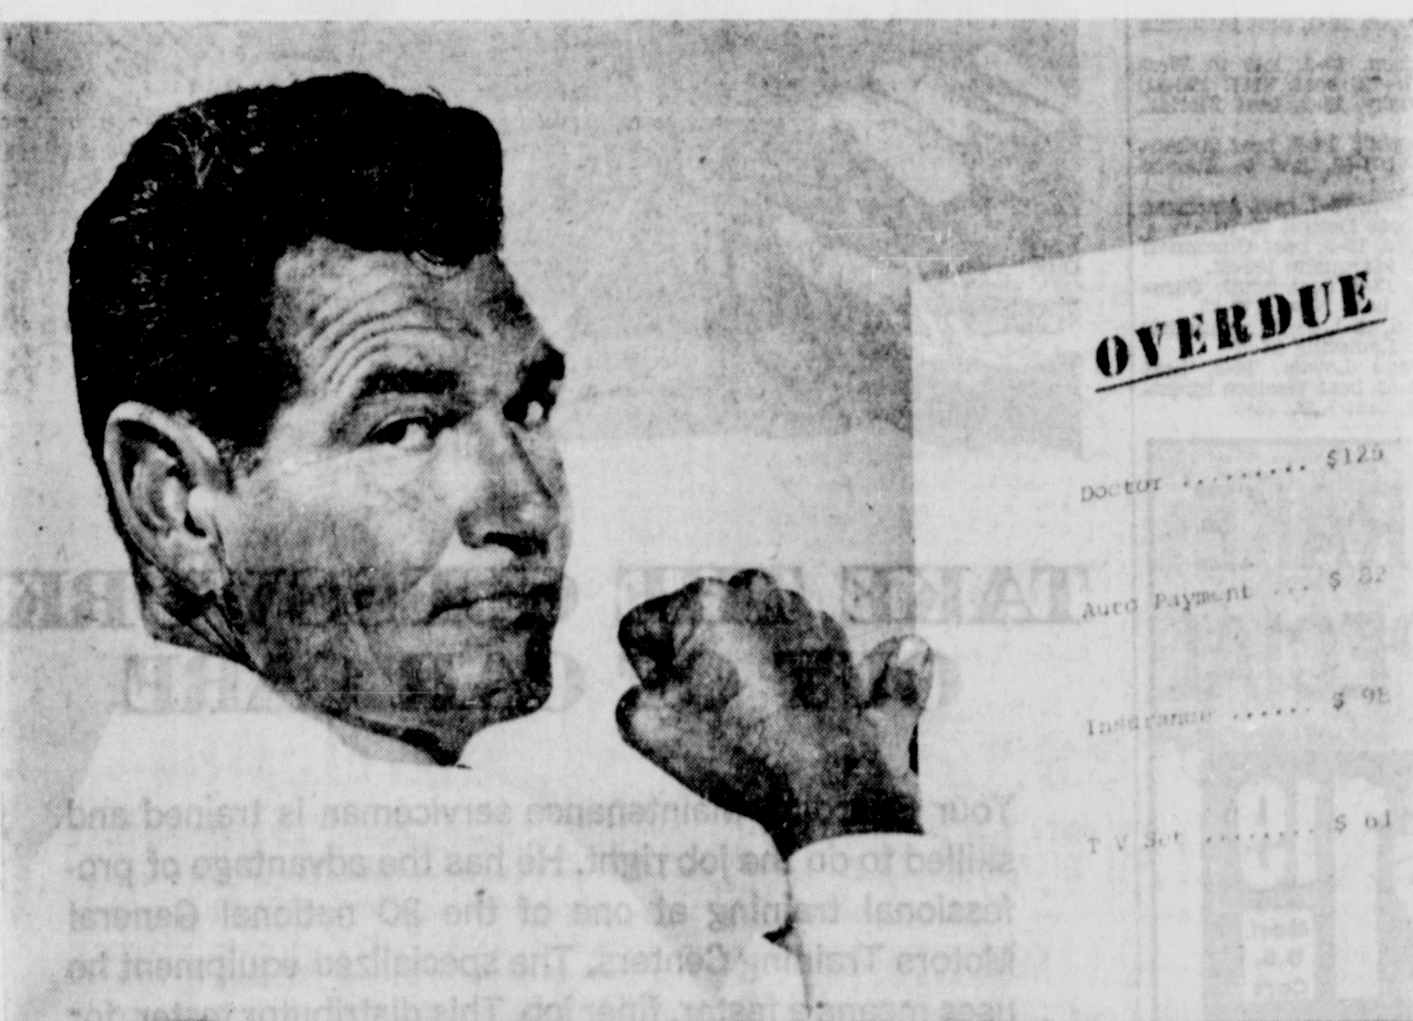

Champion laid the high cost of California government to the tremendous rate of population increase, estimated at 600,000 a year.

The revenue dollar is derived this way: Sales tax, 43.5 cents; bank and corporation tax 18.3; personal income tax, 17.6; inheritance and gift tax, 4.4; insurance tax, 4.3; cigarette tax, 3.4; liquor tax and fees, 3.1; horse racing fees, 1.6; and other sources, 3.8.

Working Injuries

SACRAMENTO — About three out of every four injuries to California workers are caused by falls and slips, strain and over-exertion, striking objects or being struck by them, according to the state Division of Industrial Safety.

Strange purchase? You'd be surprised at all that Standard buys...and where!

The totem pole, carved by Chilkat Indians for our new Alaskan Refinery — Alaska's first refinery — depicts the story of oil in the 49th State.

While it's one of the most unusual purchases we ever made, it illustrates a Standard Oil Company of California policy: To support local businesses and communities with local purchases.

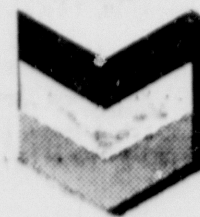

The Chilkat clan was one of the more than 18,000 suppliers who filled our exploration, producing,

Van Asperen, Easom Big Yacht Winners

By ALFRED MATSON

In the final regatta of the Golden Gate Yacht Club's mid-winter series yesterday, Ernest Van Asperen's Alembic of San Francisco Y.C. not only was the winner in Cruising Club "B" division but also emerged as the series champion.

Another big winner was Hank Easom's Dasher of St. Francis Y.C. While he could do no better than third in yesterday's races, Hank had accumulated sufficient points in previous races to collar the championship trophy in Cruising Club "C."

In the early stages of yesterday's event, the 125 entries were favored with a light, but consistent breeze. Yet before the initial starters had achieved the windward mark the wind took a powder and scrambled. For an hour and a half the large fleet was pinned down along the Marina shore, then the breeze returned and held

DeRosa Star For Builders

Southpaw hurler Bob DeRosa won his own game yesterday in the opening tilt of the Alameda Winter League playoffs, hitting a two-run double in the top of the 11th inning to give the Billing-Hutchison Builders of Marin a 6-4 win over the Acme Carpet nine.

It was the fourth straight win for the Builders.

With two outs in the 11th, a walk and then a double by Joe Panella put runners on second and third. Then DeRosa slapped a ball to the right field corner for a double, sending in the two winning runs.

Ron Cole, the starting pitcher for the Builders, worked three innings and allowed two runs on three hits. DeRosa worked the final eight innings, allowing 7 scattered hits while striking out 11.

Leading the builders at the plate were Walt Williams with a single, double and triple and Larry Smoot who tied up the game in the seventh inning with a three run homer over the right field wall.

TODAY'S WINTER OLYMPIC HIGHLIGHTS

Saubert Wins Second Medal For U. S.

By TED SMITH

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — Plucky Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore., added a silver medal to her earlier bronze with a flashing run in the women's giant slalom ski race and young Yank figure skaters got off to a strong start today in the United States' brightest day in the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

Miss Saubert, 21-year-old Oregon State coed, broke the monopoly of France's brilliant Alpine sister team by tying Christine Goitschel for second — A fraction of a second behind Christine's sister, Marielle, the gold medalist.

The winning time was 1 minute, 52.24 seconds, Jean and Christine did 1:53.11.

Jean's two medals are the only ones collected so far by the U.S. team. The Soviet Union, on the other hand, is making a team runaway of the Games, with a total of 15—six gold, five silver and four bronze.

The Russians picked up another silver in the Nordic combined, the only other final of the day, with the gold going to Tormad Knutsen, a 32-year-old Norwegian clerk who had been thought too old for such a rigorous skiing test.

Knutsen sped the 9.3 miles of the crosscountry in 50 minutes, 58.6 seconds for 469.20 points.

John Bower of Auburn,

Maine, had the ninth best cross-country time with 52:26.4 but finished 15th in the final combined standings with 403.76 points.

Jim Shea was 27th with 346.76 points, after racing the cross-country in 53:04.2. The third U.S. entry, Jim Page of Lake Placid, N.Y., scratched because of an attack of influenza.

In the start of the men's figure skating competition at the Ice Stadium, Scotty Allen, the 15-year-old schoolboy national champion from Smoke Rise, N.J., shot into fourth place in the first two of five compulsory figures. The final three will be skated tomorrow.

Monty Hoyt of Denver, former U.S. champion, was ninth and Tommy Litz of Hershey, Pa., who shines in free skating, was 15th.

Manfred Schnelldorfer of Germany assumed the lead with 363.0 points.

Hoyt's score was 321.6 and Litz had a total of 306.3.

Four of Russia's gold medals — a record number for one competitor at the Winter Olympics—belonged to one person. The proud owner is a dimpled blonde speed skater, 24-year-old Lidia Skoblikova.

She completed her feat yesterday by winning the 3,000-meters race after being victorious at the other three distances. Because of the thaw, water squirted from her blades as she skated across the finish.

Valentina Stenina, Lidia's teammate, and Han Pil Haw of North Korea shared second place. Each received a silver medal.

Another ice queen, 22-year-old Sjoukje Dijkstra of Holland, added the Olympic gold medal for figure skating last night to the two world crowns she won in 1962 and 1963.

Regine Heitzer of Austria was second, barely ahead of Petra Burka of Canada.

Eero Maentyanata, 26-year-old Finnish customs official from above the Arctic circle, earlier captured his second cross-country skiing gold medal. He took the 15 kilometers after previously winning the 30 kilometers.

His victory brought Finland's total of medals to five, second only to Russia.

Harald Groenningen of Norway was second in the 15 kilometer and Sixten Jernberg of Sweden third.

In the lone Alpine event, Francois Bonlieu, 27-year-old mountain guide from Chamonix, France, captured the men's giant slalom. France is third in the medal race with four.

Kark Schranz took the lead in the standings for the Alpine combined world championship, being awarded for the first time by the International Ski Federation on the basis of Olympic performance.

Phoenix Tourney Boycotted By PGA

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Professional Golf Assn. posted men at three Phoenix courses today, warning organization members that they face a one-year suspension if they participated in the $50,000 Phoenix Open.

The tournament opens Thursday, with qualifying rounds for non-exempt pros scheduled today.

The action came in the wake of PGA's announced boycott of the Phoenix event. The association said Phoenix sponsors had not signed a contract.

Len Huck, chairman of the sponsoring Phoenix Thunderbirds, said the failure to sign stemmed from a PGA demand that it be given television rights and revenues.

The tournament will be televised in part this year.

At the same time, the PGA asked the Tucson Golf Assn. to stage its $30,000 event this week, instead of next, to plug the gap.

But at a special meeting this morning, the Tucson group refused to advance its tournament dates. Association President Robert Babe Hall said it would be physically impossible to hold the event a week earlier than planned.

Yesterday, however, Ricki Rarick, chairman of the Tucson Arrow, had offered to swap dates with Phoenix so the contract difficulties could be ironed out.

The Phoenixians turned him down.

In Phoenix, the Thunderbirds were meeting in an effort to decide what to do next.

Earlier, they had said they were going ahead with some sort of a 72-hole event.

Novato Boys Win 4 Tam Mat Titles

Novato High School wrestlers won three first place medals and one Tamalpais High School grappler was a first place winner Saturday at the Tamalpais High School open invitational wrestling tourney.

Twelve schools from Marin, Lake, Sonoma, Solano and San Mateo counties entered the meet, the first one held at Tam. There were about 120 participants.

Winners from Novato were Kit Cody, 123-pound class; Mike Halkovich, 130-pound class, and Jim Naugle, 168-pound class. Medal winner from Tam was Ralph Perry in the 148-pound group.

Boys who finished second through fourth were awarded ribbons.

From Novato:
Second place—Rich Rotchy, 194-pounds.
Third place—Ray Bratt, 136-pounds; Tim Gabbard, 157-pounds; Wayne Russell, unlimited.
From Tamalpais:
Second—Jim Terrell, 98-pounds; John Bennett, 157-pounds.
Third—Gary Arthur, 141-pounds.
Fourth—Brian Collett, 130-pounds; Jim Griffin, 178-pounds.
From San Rafael Military Academy:
Fourth—Mike Richards, 136-pounds.

Terra Linda JVs Win Over Novato

Led by Jim Crisp's 17 points, Terra Linda High School's junior varsity cage team downed Novato High 38-35 in Marin Athletic League action last Friday, winding up the first half of league play.

In other junior varsity games of the night, Tamalpais dumped Redwood 37-24 and Drake downed San Rafael 42-37. In the Tam-Redwood game, Bob Holloway led Tam with 10 points and Lance Russell topped the Redwood scoring with nine points.

Varsity games will be followed by Class B encounters in all four programs.

First place San Rafael Bulldogs, winners of all six games in the first half of the Marin League schedule, second place Marin Catholic (4-2) and defending champion Tamalpais are idle tomorrow.

The league championship race resumes Friday night with Redwood at Marin Catholic, San Rafael at Terra Linda, Drake at Tam, Novato is idle.

Marin Routs Shasta, Vaults Back Into Pennant Picture

College of Marin's basketball team, all of a sudden back in the thick of the Golden Valley Conference cage race, made the weekend a very successful one Saturday night with a 94-72 pasting over Shasta College in Redding.

The night before, the Tars downed College of Siskiyou 67-63. The twin victories put the Mariners 3-2 in conference play.

Napa, now 4-0, downed Santa Rosa Saturday night and it was the first loss for the Bear Cubs who now have a 4-1 mark in conference play. The Tars will get a chance to be the first ones to beat Napa when they battle the Chiefs Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Drake High School gym in San Anselmo.

Last Saturday night it was a time lead. With the Mariners piling up the points in the second half, coach Cal Riemcke was able to clear his bench. Besides sinking a rash of field goals, the Tars put through 26 free throws to only 18 for Shasta. College of Marin hit 26 out of 37 for 70 per cent and Shasta made its 18 shots out of 28 tries for 64 per cent.

From the floor, Marin made good on 34 shots to 27 for Napa. Leading the Tars in the scoring column was Jay Johnson with 22 points.

Other Marin scoring came from Ron O'Connell with 19; Brad Busch, 18; Pete Bardea, 12; Bill Hodgson, 6; Hap Curley, 6; Rich Abbot, 4; Jim Dalton, 2; Bruce Wold, 2; Bruce Ketron, 2; Jeff Chapman, 1.

IKE'S TROPHY—Former President Eisenhower presents the Eisenhower silver trophy to Tommy Jacobs for winning the Palm Springs Golf Classic yesterday.

Bolder Tommy Jacobs Beats Older Demaret In Playoff

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — Tommy Jacobs is getting a little bolder and Jimmy Demaret is getting a little older. Which is not only a rhyme but a reason the $50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic turned out the way it did.

Jacobs won it, beating Demaret on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff yesterday after they finished the regulation 90 holes in 353 strokes each, seven under par.

Demaret, 53, offered this wry salute to his 28-year-old adversary:

"Tommy's a good boy and it was nice he could win it. After all, I've got a lot of years left and he's about through."

Demaret, who hasn't won a PGA tournament in nearly seven years, admitted the 90-hole exercise left him slightly exhausted. In the playoff, he gave away 25 years.

Jacobs said his victory was largely a result of his recent resolution to play a bolder game of golf.

"I've had a lot of opportunities to win tournaments," he said. "But I'd always find myself playing conservatively. Before this tournament I told myself I was going to play for the pin, come Hell or high water."

"Like today on the ninth hole, I took a look at all that water by the green and started debating whether I should go for the pin or lay back and play it safe. I decided the Hell with it and went for the pin."

FIRST BIRDIE

It was this hole that Jacobs picked up his first birdie of the final round.

Jacobs, who has a home at nearby Bermuda Dunes Country Club, won the playoff with a nine-inch putt for a par three on the 92nd hole. Demaret, whose drive left him about 40 feet to the left of the green, was lying three when Jacobs holed out.

That ended a tournament that produced so many ties someone suggested it should be renamed the Wembley Open.

There was a tie after every round. It was Charlie Sifford and Jacobs after the first round, Sifford and Doug Sanders after the second round and Sifford and Bob Charles after the third round, Bill Casper and Chuck Courtney were tied going into the fifth round and Jacobs and Demaret, of course, were tied after 90 holes.

It was the second consecutive playoff here. Jack Nicklaus beat Gary Player in an 18-hole overtime a year ago.

Jacobs got $7,500 of the $50,000 purse. Demaret, who plays only five or six tournaments a year, won $4,000.

Charles and Don January finished in a third-place tie at 354, one shot behind Demaret and Jacobs, and got $3,100 each. Courtney and Bob Goalby were another stroke back and picked up $2,450 apiece.

There was a five-way tie at 356 among Bruce Devlin, Dave Marr, George Knudson, Sifford and Casper. They got $1,680 each.

Kevin Wilson with 20 points and Ken Bertram with 17 led the Redwood frosh, and Bill Crutchfield with 13 topped the Tam scoring.

In other freshman basketball action last Friday, San Rafael led by Roger Widmer's 15 points, downed Drake 41-38, and Novato nipped Terra Linda 32-30.

Seals May Get Hawks' Bad Boy

PORTLAND (UPI) — One of hockey's most controversial performers may be headed for the San Francisco Seals.

Coach Bud Poile watched his Seals take it on the chin here from Portland last night, 6-3, and then announced he was trying to obtain defenseman Howie Young of the National Hockey League's Chicago Blackhawks.

Young is currently on suspension by the NHL after keeping the league in an uproar with a series of wild fights. Poile planned to talk to Hawk officials today.

The Seal coach and general manager also announced that he had negotiated a deal with an unnamed American Hockey League team for veteran line-man Duke Edmundson, but the deal fell through when Edmundson refused to go. Duke was quoted as saying either he would play in San Francisco or not at all.

Coach Poile planned to decide today whether to suspend Edmundson. The Seals are currently one man over strength and left Jean Marc Picard at home last night.

TIE FOR THIRD

Portland's win over the Seals last night dropped San Francisco into a tie for third with Seattle, which won its game over Vancouver.

Fifth place Portland is only three points behind and the fight for play-off berths is getting fiercer. Portland hosts San Francisco again Wednesday.

A crowd of 8,227 at the Glass Palace last night watched San Francisco take a 2-1 lead in the first period when Gerry Brisson and Len Haley blinked the red light for the seals.

Portland tallied twice in the second heat to go ahead and twice more early in the third period to ice the contest before Wayne Connelly pushed through another San Francisco goal.

The game was highlighted by a stick fight between San Francisco's Brisson and Arnie Schmaltz of Portland in the final stanza.

Warriors Cop League Lead

BALTIMORE (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain's hot hand and hard knee have put the San Francisco Warriors into first place in the National Basketball Assn. Western Division. Chamberlain's hand was up when Baltimore's Terry Dischinger took a shot yesterday that could have tied the score and sent the contest into a second overtime.

Besides blocking the shot, Chamberlain scored 32 points ahead of Novato and Marin Catholic high schools, both with 4-2 league marks.

Other scaring performances by the 6-3 forward, in league play, were 12 points against Terra Linda, 30 points against Novato, 27 against Tamalpais and 19 against Marin Catholic.

San Rafael Ace Cited As 'Prep Of The Week'

Rod Monti of San Rafael High School, the Marin Athletic League's top scorer through the first half of loop action, has been selected Prep of the Week by the Independent-Journal sports staff.

His selection came after he scored 26 points last Tuesday when San Rafael downed Redwood 62-56, and then he came back Friday with a 27-point production to lead the Bulldogs to a 63-50 triumph over Drake.

Monti, through the first half of the MAL competition, has scored 141 points in six games for an average of 23.5 points per game, putting him way out front in the scoring race. The left-handed cager topped the league last year as a junior with 210 points and a 17.5 average in the 12 league games.

His scoring has led San Rafael to six straight league victories in the Marin Athletic League, putting the Bulldogs in first place, two full games in the 120-118 Warrior overtime win over the Bullets. San Francisco's Wayne Hightower had 33.

Los Angeles star Jerry West somehow banged his right thumb against Chamberlain's left knee one week ago yesterday in a game won by the Lakers.

That was the last game won by the Lakers. West fractured his thumb and Los Angeles has lost five straight and the league lead since then. West won't be back for two more weeks. San Francisco now is three percentage points ahead of St. Louis and one-half game in front of Los Angeles.

Quick baskets by Warriors Guy Rodgers and Gary Phillips broke the 109-109 regulation tie when the Baltimore game moved into overtime. But the Bullets crept up until Dischinger took his shot with 17 seconds left. Phillips got the ball after Chamberlain's block and held on.

A Sunday Afternoon With The Young Masters

Whew! It was a tough fight, ma, but I won! Finally cajoled Doug Cowan out of the notion he'd be a better columnist than I. (You, there, in the back row—I heard that smart crack about a battle of two dreamers!) It's only fair, though, that I've been permitted this one indulgence, particularly in view of the few assorted chores that come my way in any given day. Some guys find large measures of relaxation from reading good books. I get mine by writing stuff nobody would consider binding, even in paperbacks. And, with the increase in disposals, these offerings live but once.

Well, that's enough for the preamble. You've gotten the drift by this time that if you're one of those characters who insist on reading the daily paper, column by column, page by page, you're doomed to suffer through my twice-weekly offering. These are but two valid reasons for reading everything in the paper—one, to add fuel to a state of mind already seething with righteous indignation, and, two, to get a full dime's worth of value. For reason number one, I promise you a few snorts and considerable fuming. For number two, I can probably add little or nothing.

To the point, now. A week ago Sunday, Mryl, Marilyn and I accepted Herbert A. Crocker's and William H. McDevitt's invitation to their Musée D'Art International at Dominic's, and arrived early, thankfully, via Thunderbird (one of the two ways to travel—the other being a Ford of any model, by Ames, that is.) Arriving early was a happy decision, for many reasons: parking was no problem—an hour later, leaving was a major project; the champagne and imaginative bar offerings were easily accessible; the hors d'oeuvres were eye-popping and appetizing; the ice swans had just begun to melt, but were majestic; and, the paintings by contemporary European masters were not yet blocked out by the masses of art critics.

I couldn't resist the compelling magnetism of many of these works, even the collage, the abstracts, and the expressionists. I'm a realism man, myself. Even to still life. Got to be able to recognize fruit or flowers for what they are. The colors in the vague offerings came through, but I never could nor did I get the message. But, they were real pretty, all hanging there, and one message I did get was the effort and singleness of purpose each one obviously represented for the painters.

It was particularly pleasing to see such an exhibit so close to home and work, a mere few doors from Ames Ford. And, the response, which must have gratified Messrs. Crocker and McDevitt, renewed my own determination to continue efforts to attract more of this segment of Marin to Ames Ford.

I did not notice anyone displeased with the Musée d'Art. It's up to us to earn a similar reaction in their visit to Ames Ford.

Minors Open 13th Season Of Music, Dance

Music for Minors opened its 13th season Saturday with a program that kept the youngsters exercising their imaginations, voices and muscles almost the entire time.

In 10 and 11 a.m. performances in the San Rafael High School auditorium, Dick Ford and children in two of his dance workshop groups demonstrated for Marin small fry "Holiday Rhythms in Dance."

Saturday's shows had some of the best audience participation stunts ever seen in these programs, which are co-sponsored by the Symphony Guild of Marin and county superintendent of schools. These included everything from pantomiming of clouds, thunder, lightning, rain and growing plants to Mexican folk dancing in the aisles and a hilarious balloon batting game.

Best evidence of Ford's ability to spark creative impulses was in the dances choreographed with his assistance and performed by his classes. The best of these were inspired by turkeys, kangaroos and elephants.

Pianist LeRoy Miller was Ford's able assistant in helping to create the right musical background. —M.S.

1,100 Crowd Hall For Menotti Work

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Saturday night's West Coast premier of "The Death of the Bishop of Brindisi" by Menotti proved there is a large audience potential in Marin for exciting new music as well as for the classics.

More than 1,100 people filled Angelico Hall on the Dominican College Campus in San Rafael to standing room only for this much heralded work inspired by the Children's crusade.

Produced by the Winifred Baker Chorale, orchestra and children's chorus and the Davidson and Santa Venetia jun-

Accident Group To Rent Chambers

The California Industrial Accident Commission has agreed to pay Marin County $6.50 a meeting for use of the county planning commission chambers four times a month for hearings.

The commission came to the county after it was barred from future use of the old quarters, provided by the Tamalpais Union High School District.

Local organizations are not charged rent, but also are not allowed to use the Civic Center rooms on a regularly scheduled basis. The county administrator's office determined the cost to the county would be about $6.50 a meeting.

Three Candidates Agree On Debate

All three announced candidates for supervisor in the Fourth (West Marin) District have agreed to a debate to be held sometime after the filing deadline March 20.

The Marin County Farm Bureau will sponsor the meeting. By March 20 there may be more than the three men who have announced. The three are incumbent George H. Ludy of Inverness, former supervisor James A. Marshall of Tomales, and attorney Thomas T. Storer of Inverness Park.

ior high schools choruses, it was also a showcase for the brilliant solo talents of Marin's own baritone Byron Jones and operatic soprano Gwen Curatilo.

In the role of the bishop, which was ideally suited to the range and power of his voice, Jones gave a dramatically intense performance that was superb and the best we have heard from him.

To Winifred Baker herself most of the credit was due for her training of participating groups and inspired conducting. Phenomenal is the word for the children, who not only sang with good tonal quality and distinct diction but had memorized their entire part of the score—a considerable one.

While Gwen Curatilo sang the role of the nun in the Menotti work well, it was in Beethoven's "Cantata on the Death of the Emperor Joseph II" that she was outstanding. Jones and two quartets contributed much to this little known but magnificent piece.

Special mention should be made of the fine pianistic performance of William Clark in this work and in the Menotti cantata.

"Coronation Te Deum" by William Walton, which opened the concert, was impressive with the 14 female voices of the Dominican College Madrigal Singers and 14 mixed voices of the Marin pro musica added to the Winifred Baker chorale of some 75 voices. But this work was pale compared to the Beethoven. In the latter, finer nuances of expression and tighter control of dynamics were a real test for this excellent chorus.

Wilbur Russell proved his usual expert organ accompaniment for the "Coronation Te Deum." Because they were so extremely different, the two death-centered cantatas did not have quite so somber an effect on the total program as they might have.

The total performance rated a standing ovation at the end.

Human Civil Rights Plan On Agenda

The Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow is scheduled to take up a host of items carried over from last week's agenda.

A formal resolution creating a civil human rights commission will be considered. Also, the ordinance establishing new zoning in the San Geronimo Valley will be before the board, which has already voted, informally, on what the zoning should be.

Left over from last week for the session opening at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the Civic Center are further consideration of an animal control ordinance, an appointment to the county redevelopment agency, a statement on the recommendations of the grand jury, financing for reconstruction of Mar West Street in Tiburon, and action on further use of the Sonoma County honor farm for Marin jail inmates.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows has asked the board to transfer $5,500 for unappropriated reserves for use in transporting mental patients to state hospitals.

Falcon proves it's America's toughest compact in the rugged Monte Carlo Rallye!

Four Falcons started from Oslo, four from Paris, on routes calculated to be equal in difficulty and length. Weather conditions varied from clear, bitter cold through freezing fog to blinding snow—and the time schedules made no provision for delays. Here a Falcon swiftness through a sudden snow shower, testing traction in a practice run.

Falcon entered two times in Europe's 2,700-mile winter ordeal—won them both and finished 2nd overall out of 299 cars. That's durability!

In the Rallye's five special Alpine sections, Falcon was first overall in four, tied for first in one. That's roadability!

MONTE CARLO—The 33rd Monte Carlo Rallye started with 299 cars. Some 2,700 miles and 3½ days later, only 163 were still in the rally when the field struggled into Monaco—but they included all eight of the specially equipped Falcons that originally started!

This eight-out-of-eight record was perhaps more remarkable than the fact that, despite a handicap formula that favored the smallest cars, a Falcon captured second place overall. One car can have luck . . . but eight have to have total performance. Because the Rallye samples every variety of weather and road conditions the continent can provide, and because it winds up on the most remote byways in the French Maritime Alps, it is a supreme test of all the car's abilities. Falcon steering had to be flawless on glare ice above a 1,000-foot drop. Those fabulous V-8's had to run like dynamos.

The final results in the Monte Carlo Rallye gave Falcon 2nd place overall, 1st in Class 8 of the Touring category, 1st and 2nd in Class 5 of the much tougher Grand Touring category, 1st and 2nd in the final three-lap test on the Monte Carlo circuit. The best finish by a Valiant was 88th overall. Falcon gained invaluable experience in how to build a car better, make it tougher, sharpen up its total performance. That's the real reason Ford is interested in open competition—and why Ford-built cars have got so much more to show drivers. Drive one and see; it won't have six lights, or a horn you can hear for four miles in stormy weather, or the other special rally equipment—but it'll sure surprise you!

Illustrator Leads Double Life

One of a series of articles on Marin's working women. By PATRICIA ZINN

A Terra Linda housewife illustrates the glamorous fashion accessories you see in your newspaper, while her pre-schooler plays near by. The two careers as a freelance artist and a homemaker "keep me alive," says Mrs. T. M. Jacobson.

Blonde, vivacious Eleanor Jacobson operates her advertising agency from her home, where she is the wife of a staff assistant for Standard Oil Co., and mother of six-year-old Erin, and Curt, aged four.

FOR WOMEN Eleanor's career is especially attractive because she is among the first to see the "latest" in fashions and accessories. She also laughingly admits that "the social life is great" through her constant contact with the stores.

Another advantage might be her expressing delight in the merchandise through sketches and words in her advertisement and not through her pocketbook.

"EVER SINCE kindergarten I've wanted to be an artist," says Eleanor Jacobson, who furthered this ambition at the Academy of Advertising Art in her native San Francisco.

After six months in her first job at the Carolyn Kelsey store in San Francisco, the young artist moved on to a small advertising agency in Los Angeles.

THE BREAKTHROUGH for Eleanor came at Bullock's, where she worked her way from the buying office to the advertising staff of the large and exclusive department store.

"At Bullock's we had a terrific crew and I concentrated mostly on fashion drawings," she continued.

Eleanor feels that fashion is easier to break into than commercial art. This may lie in her love of still life where shoes, scarves and gift items are among her specialties. It was during this time at Bullock's that she took special courses at Chouinard's Art School in Los Angeles and specialized in what she considers the basic tools of the trade—life drawing and design. This successful illustrator also points out that knowing how to type often gets "the foot in the door."

WRITING THE material to accompany the drawing—copywriting—Eleanor thinks "comes on your own." Merchandise calls for copy ideas although color and the seasons of the year bring "spurts of inspiration." In a recent shoe store ad, the artist-homemaker featured a boot with the copy written in Italian.

That an "artist lives here" permeates the Jacobson home not only in the oil paintings and watercolors but also in the kitchen-family room, where Eleanor works on her commissioned oils.

Although she still manages to take courses at College of Marin, the busy homemaker is hard pressed to find time any more for designing clothes and sewing.

Her pastimes now are sailing, the theater and activities the whole family can enjoy.

DOES ELEANOR Jacobson look forward to a day when she can devote herself to oil painting and watercolors? "No, because after the completion of a nice advertisement, I know I would not be able to let them go. Besides, I'm dying to try sculpture."

SKETCHING A SHOE for a newspaper advertising layout in her studio at home is Mrs. T. M. Jacobson of Terra Linda. The fashion illustrator successfully combines her career and the role of wife and mother.

HOW TO DEFEND YOURSELF TO BE Y'S PROGRAM

"How to defend yourself in case of attack" will be the subject of a panel discussion sponsored by the YWCA at the YW office, 216 Greenfield Ave., San Anselmo, on Feb. 11.

Speakers will be Charles Chiesa, police chief of San Rafael, Raymond R. Buchigiani, police chief of San Anselmo, and Captain Sid Stinson, of the Marin County Sheriff's Office.

Kaye Hunt, director of the YWCA in Marin, said the meeting was scheduled in response to requests from Marin county housewives, who have become apprehensive over the recent wave of attacks in the East Bay.

Most of the callers requested that the YWCA give a course in judo. However, Miss Hunt said, judo is not always sufficient defense against armed attackers and in any case takes years to master. The YWCA and local officials in the meeting will suggest self-protective measures that are considered practical in the present emergency.

The meeting is open to all, but reservations are necessary. For reservations call the YWCA office.

LENDS CUPID HELPING HAND

TORRINGTON, Conn., (UPI)—City Clerk Fred P. Bruni is giving cupid a helping hand.

Bruni said that he would hand out two silver dollars to each couple applying for a marriage license next month.

By WILLIAM J. EATON WASHINGTON (UPI)—The gripes of the American housewife about her shopping problems are coming through loud and clear to Mrs. Esther Peterson, newly named assistant to President Johnson for consumer affairs.

Mrs. Peterson, who runs a cart through a supermarket herself, is reading hundreds of letters from indignant buyers to begin her campaign against sharp practices and unwarranted price increases.

The mail is mostly handwritten and comes from every corner of the country. The writers generally congratulate her on her new job and then tee off—on products ranging from Cracker Jack to $1,000 equipped kitchens. Others complain about high credit charges, trading stamps and the cost of drugs.

"I INTEND TO use these letters," Mrs. Peterson said. "I think we can accomplish a lot by voluntary action, without new laws, once the manufacturers are aware of how the public feels about some of these practices."

"The protests of consumers can have a good effect."

AS ASSISTANT Secretary of Labor, a post she will continue to hold along with her White House assignment, Mrs. Peterson is the top-ranking woman in government.

She wears her gray-white hair in braids piled on top of her head, smiles often and has more zest at age 57 than many of her Washington juniors.

Her background as a teacher, mother of four children and lobbyist for labor unions helps to explain her concern for the buying problems of the people who have written to her.

"There are some tragic letters here," she said, pointing to a cardboard box on her desk. "Many women tell me that their family's income is $250 or $275 a month. I know they cannot afford to waste money."

MRS. PETERSON said she gets dozens of letters complaining about deceptive packaging. One Texan suggested she get a pint of ice cream and let it melt to discover how much air is in it. A Cleveland woman said she discovered she was paying $1.24 a pound for the cardboard placed under ready-wrapped meat in self-service stores. There were many protests about the use of vague terms like "jumbo" and "large economy size."

"Yet we hear about 'a full quart' and a 'big gallon,'" Mrs. Peterson added. "Why do they do it?"

IN AN EFFORT to find some of the answers, she has agreed to meet with members of the Advertising Council and said she would consult with producers and packagers, too, at their request.

Other letters, many from retired persons, complain about prices of essentials.

The owner of a $300 hearing aid wrote: "It would be a wonderful thing for us on Social Security to be able to buy hearing aids that didn't cost so terrible much."

A mother of seven in Boston, Mass., bewailed the cheap thread used on children's corduroy pants, and an Aurora, Ill., bride of "14 months and 13 days" said her food bills were soaring, adding: "Where can we save? You can't eat hot dogs and hamburgers all the time."

On rosebud paper a Louisville woman asked: "Could you see about getting some law to force a grocer to grind your meat where you can see him do it?" She added: "P.S. I forgot. Do I have the right to take green potatoes back to the grocer?"

SOME OF MRS. Peterson's pen pals send in labels, coupons and "cents off" signs to illustrate their gripes.

In this category, the well-off as well as the poor expressed anger at some practices. A matron from Scarsdale, N.Y., denounced trading stamps, saying: "Forced consumption, and that's what it amounts to. Ought to be illegal. Is there any point in approaching the Attorney General's office?"

A Californian said she and other members of her country club found that a certain brand of polish caused their fingernails to break off. An Ohio woman complained that the prizes in Cracker Jack were just the right size for children to choke on.

MRS. PETERSON SAID she was astonished to discover that some stores now extend credit to teen-agers at fairly high rates of interest.

"I'd like to see the schools teach economics from the consumers' angle," she said, "and not just from the producer's angle."

Despite her belief that the buyer deserves more information on the products in stores and the charges for credit, she believes American housewives are fortunate to have the choice and the convenience of supermarket shopping.

She hopes to bring about changes, however, so packaging and pricing will no longer produce denunciations like this one she received:

"THE MANUFACTURER who uses these shady methods to pick the consumers' pockets is a bigger coward and worse thief than the stick-up artist."

Until then, however, Mrs. Peterson intends to stand by her griping post.

Childbirth Assn. To Show Films

The Education For Childbirth Assn. will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday, at 8 p.m., in Room 32, Science Building, College of Marin.

Special program for the evening will include two films, put out by the American Cancer Society, entitled: "Time and Two Women"—topic, uterine cancer, and "Breast, Self-Examination". A medical doctor will give a short talk and answer questions during a discussion period following the film, during which time the audience may participate.

THE INNER COURT of the Jacobson home provides good light for Eleanor Jacobson who puts the finishing touches on a commissioned oil painting. The court is also a perfect place for her two children to play.

First Lady Of Korea Rebels Against The Gilded Cage Idea

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — "I am determined the Blue House will not become my gilded cage."

The words are from Mrs. Chung Hee Park, lovely First Lady of Korea. The Blue House, residence of the head of state, automatically became home for Mrs. Park and her family on Dec. 17, the date her husband was inaugurated president.

THE 36-YEAR-OLD Mrs. Park is more interested in being a sounding board for her husband, than in fussing about rearranging the furniture or changing the decor of the 17-room presidential palace set in 59 acres of grounds and garden.

Her primary concern, she says, is how to keep her new home from confining her or obstructing her vision or her consciousness of the suffering and need that exists in the bleak outside.

DURING AN interview in her personal receiving room, the new First Lady sits, poised and straight in the center of the small gold brocade couch before a black lacquered tea table.

Her features are regular. Her skin, smooth and flawless, is reminiscent of ivory, and her black hair, although pinned close to the head, allows for softness about the face.

"Yes, my dress is made from Korean fabric," Mrs. Park says, "but not first quality. This is good enough for me. I see no reason to go to extremes."

Her chima, the traditional high-waisted, billowing floor length skirt, is of blue green satin to blend with the pale turquoise of the short, full sleeved chogori, or overblouse.

MRS. PARK SAYS she has no one to advise her regarding personal attire or protocol. But if she has any doubt about what she should wear, she has absolutely none about what she must do as First Lady of an infant democracy.

"I must keep a personal contact with the people so that I can absorb and understand their problems," Mrs. Park says. "I must be the sounding board for their pleas."

Asked if her husband sanctions such an undertaking, Yuk Young-Soo, as she is known in a country where marriage does not alter a woman's maiden name, answers promptly.

"Yes, he feels it is my most important duty as his wife. After all, he can't do it. His hours are filled with high level affairs of state. We both believe it is the best way I can help him help the people."

"THIS IS NOT a new role for me," she says. "During the two years and seven months my husband was the chairman of the interim junta government, I spent all the time possible driving around in a jeep visiting farmers and laborers. Once my husband accompanied me. That was when he was accusing me of getting too emotionally involved with the troubles of others. What I showed him, moved him deeply. He was prompted on the spot to help this needy family with a contribution far more generous than any I would have considered.

"Of course it was easier then," she continues, "before the political mandate which made my husband President by the vote of the people and made me the First Lady in the true sense of the word."

"Now I can not walk out of the Blue House and go anywhere without aides, and guards and press people accompanying me."

DURING THE KOREAN War, Yuk Young-Soo, a school teacher refugee in Pusan met another refugee, seventh and youngest child of a very poor farmer, and in Korea that means destitute. She was instantly attracted to him, she says, not by his physical appearance, but by the quality of strength and integrity she sensed in him.

Her parents were not happy about entrusting the future of their beautiful daughter to a man they considered a poor risk. For the poor although she understands it quite well.

However, objections were surmounted and in 1950, the school teacher and Lt. Colonel Chung Hee Park were married. They now are the parents of three children: two daughters, Keun-Hyen 11, Keun-Yung 9, and a 5-year-old son, Chi-Man.

SHE IS FLUENT in Japanese, but does not converse in English beyond the amenities,

Regarding her husband's work load, Mrs. Park says:

"I understand that he cannot be wasteful of his time. He and his key supporters have planned, worked, pushed and fought so hard and long to get where they are, I feel now they should make time for reflection and appraisal. It is my intention to suggest this to them."

Native Of Larkspur Chosen To Lead Rod, Gun Auxiliary

Fishing and flower arranging are the two most enjoyable pastimes for Mrs. Edgar Carl Peterson of Larkspur, who is the new president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

Estelle Peterson is a native of Larkspur, and has always lived in Marin except for five years she taught school in Pittsburg. She also taught at Laurel Dell School in San Rafael before her children were born. The wife of an insurance underwriter, Mrs. Peterson is the mother of Daniel Peterson, S.J. of Santa Barbara; Thomas R. Peterson, stationed with the Navy in Seattle, and Gerald and

MRS. PETERSON

Patricia Peterson who live at home.

Estelle Peterson is active in the Auxiliary of the Marin County Assn. of Fire Departments as well as the state auxiliary and the Jesuit Mothers.

She's been a member of the Rod and Gun Auxiliary since 1959, holding offices of vice president and board member.

Mrs. Peterson has announced that fund raising activities of the group this year will aid the scholarship set up for a Marin youth who will study forestry and to assist with projects such as conservation of the Bay and protection of wild life in the lake areas.

Other officers who were installed to serve with her are Mesdames Manuel Bernard, vice president; John Glover, secretary; John Marzetta, treasurer and Miss Virginia Sapp, sergeant-at-arms; and board of directors members, Mesdames Charles Manning, Ernest Munson, Joseph A. Bianchini and Daisy Briscoe.

Installation chairmen were Mrs. William Murray and Mrs. Ella Mae Santos.

Hobby Show Program Set By Tamalpais Centre Club

Tamalpais Center Woman's Club of Kentfield has scheduled its annual art program for Friday at 2 p.m. at the clubhouse.

Mrs. A. N. Nipper, art chairman, has planned a hobby show, and 25 members will exhibit their hobbies. Mrs. Vera Borzy, who has lived in Paris 15 years and in England 13 years, will be the speaker. Her hobby is a secret which she will disclose during her talk.

Activities will begin at 11 a.m. with a meeting of the executive board, followed at 1 p.m. by the monthly business meeting.

Tea chairman is Mrs. H. N. Mangels, who will be assisted by Mesdames J. N. Raymond, Marius Righetti, Wendell Jordan, C. M. Arnold, E. Henry Picard and George T. Nielson. Mrs. C. C. Miller and Mrs. Henry J. Thomas will pour tea.

Mrs. George Nunez To Head Sea Point Parlor For Year

Mrs. George Nunez has stepped up to the position of president of Sea Point Parlor 196 of Sausalito, Native Daughters of the Golden West, after serving as second vice president last year and third vice president the year before.

She has been a member for two and one half years of this unit.

"Ours is a pioneer and patriotic California organization," Mrs. Nunez said, "which is interested in preserving historical relics in the state. We try to have a representative at all state affairs."

"Any woman over the age of 16 born in the state is eligible to join. One of my main purposes will be to try to get more new members."

She added, "During my year in office I also hope to have more joint projects with the Native Sons, including social get-togethers, such as picnics and dances."

Born in San Francisco, Anne Nunez has lived in Marin County since 1921 and was graduated from Tamalpais High School. She was employed before her marriage in general office work and now assists her husband, a building contractor, with his office work.

They have one son, George Nunez Jr. of Mill Valley, and their first grandchild, Gregory Nunez, was born on Christmas Day, 1963.

Since Mrs. Nunez's husband has also been a professional musician for many years and plays in a dance band, one of her major interests is popular music.

Her other interests are trout fishing with her husband and painting in water colors. She learned to do this during two years' attendance in a Tamalpais High School Adult Education class taught by Mill Valley artist Elsie Pomeroy.

The other new officers of Parlor 196 are Mesdames Raymond Rodrigues, first vice president; Frank Faustine, second vice president; Harry Bowers, third vice president; Miss Judith Silva, marshal; Mesdames Russell Bettencourt, recording secretary; Konrad Knudsen, financial secretary; Miss Barbara Bowers, treasurer; Mesdames Lee Pieraccini, inside sentinel; John Pieraccini, outside sentinel; Edward Commings, organist; Leo Commings, Fred Gustafson and Miss Darlene Madson, trustees.

Margaret Brooks Becomes Bride Of David B. King In Ross Rite

In a Saturday afternoon ceremony at St. John's Church in Ross, Margaret Brooks became the bride of David Burton King of San Francisco. The Rev. George E. Sinkinson Jr. of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, San Francisco, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Harold Hallett.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brooks of Kentfield, was escorted by her father. She recited vows wearing a candlelight pea gown with applique of heirloom rose point lace and skirt ending in a train.

Mrs. Thomas D. Reese of Menlo Park was matron of honor and the other attendants were Mrs. Samuel R. Morley of Mountain View and Linda Liscom of San Francisco. Their dresses were full skirted red chiffon.

Susan Jones of Davis and Cheryl Hahn of San Carlos were flower girls.

Morton P. Beebe of San Francisco was the best man and ushering were Robert G. Chapman of San Rafael, Philip J. Brooks of San Francisco, the bride's brother, and Richard C. Otter of San Francisco.

A reception at Maple Lawn in San Rafael followed the ceremony. After a Southern California wedding trip the couple will live in San Francisco.

Brookie, as the bride is known to friends, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and University of Oregon, where her sorority was Gamma Phi Beta. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. E. S. Jenison of Palo Alto and the late Mr. Jenison.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. C. W. MacKenzie of Davis and the late Burton A. King. He was graduated from Berkeley High School and University of California at Berkeley and from Davis. His fraternity was Theta Delta Chi.

David is the brother of Mrs. Norman Dawson of Waynesboro, Va. and Mrs. John McGrane of Houston, Tex.

Mrs. Kenneth Kopp Elected To Head Pixie Parent Unit

Mrs. Kenneth Kopp of San Anselmo has been elected president of Pixie Parents for the year. A member of the organization for three years, Mrs. Kopp was in charge of last year's Easter Egg Hunt and Fair.

Pixie Parents maintain a playground in the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross for pre-school children, and membership in the organization is open to parents of children in this age group.

Having moved to Marin at age 12, Mrs. Kopp attended Dominican, University of Oregon, and was graduated from Dominican College. She is a member and teaches a catechism class at St. Anselm's Church. Mrs. Kopp and her husband, a Marin native and a retail store division manager, enjoy packing and camping trips in the Sierras. They have two children, Stephen and Kathleen.

The new club president said the year's plans include the annual Easter hunt to be held on March 18 and 19, and a garden exhibit at the Marin Art and Garden Fair in July.

Other new officers are Mesdames Neil Janes, vice president; Bert Richardson, secretary; Charles Thurman, treasurer; Thomas Dahlgren, operations chairman, and G. W. Fulk, member-at-large.

Today is Monday, Feb. 3, the 34th day of 1964 with 332 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter. Those born today include American journalist Horace Greeley, in 1811.

On this day in history: In 1913, the income tax, or 16th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution, became law with ratification by the State of Wyoming.

In 1917, the United States broke diplomatic relations with Germany following that country's announcement of unrestricted submarine warfare. In 1924, Woodrow Wilson, former U. S. president, died at his home in Washington.

In 1930, President Herbert Hoover appointed Charles Evans Hughes chief justice of the Supreme Court.

A thought for the day — Woodrow Wilson said: "The world must be made safe for democracy."

Los Angeles Attorney Proves Case While Playing Bridge

Every now and then I play bridge with Burt Marks, the Los Angeles lawyer who proved to the California Supreme Court that contract bridge is a game of skill.

I usually have to admit that his case is still valid.

West opened the king of hearts, and Marks overtook with the ace of hearts in the East position.

LEGAL FRIEND

It was possible that his partner had started with the singleton king, and my legal friend wanted to begin the defense by cashing his two heart tricks.

Pursuing his plan, Marks continued with the queen of hearts at the second trick.

Everybody followed suit, and the next move was up to counsel for the defense.

PRETTY CLEAR

It seemed pretty clear to Marks that declarer could not lose a trick in clubs or diamonds.

The only chance was to get two trump tricks.

If West had two sure trump tricks for the penalty double of four spades, it didn't matter what East led at the third trick. If West had only prospects of two trump tricks, the third trick would be crucial.

COMES THROUGH

Marks came through by leading a third heart. Now South was doomed — provided that West cooperated in the defense.

South ruffed the third heart with the king of spades, since otherwise West would ruff with the eight. Now West made a key play by discarding.

Declarer continued with the queen of spades, forcing out the ace. South could draw two more rounds of trumps with the jack and ten, but West's eight was sure to take the setting trick sooner or later.

If West over-ruffed with the ace of spades at the third trick, South would make the contract. West would then have only three trumps left, and South could draw them with the queen, jack and ten of spades.

QUESTION

Dealer bids one heart, your partner doubles and the next player passes.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Two New Cancer Techniques Offer Results That Are Rated Promising

Two new cancer techniques were reported in December and the results are promising. One utilizes energy from a ruby laser light that emits intense heat rays of the infra-red type. The other consists of giving X-ray treatments to a person sitting or lying in a tank or chamber containing oxygen under three atmospheres of pressure (hybaroxic cancer radiation).

Cancer cells are 270 per cent more sensitive to the destructive action of X-rays when the tissues are under three atmospheres of pressure than under the normal sea level pressure of one. This is not true of normal cells and herein lies the value of this remedy. Malignant tissues can be attacked without demonstrable changes in the normal adjacent areas. The dose needed to kill cancer cells of the pancreas, for example, will not have an adverse effect upon the cells of the nearby stomach or colon.

THE OBJECTION to hybaroxic cancer radiation is the ill effects of the increased pressure on the eardrums. Many patients find it difficult to adjust to this change while undergoing treatment in the oxygen chamber. Others sweat profusely or are apprehensive. The tumor institute of the Swedish Hospital in Seattle, Wash., reported recently that 100 patients went through the procedure with favorable results. All had advanced cancer and were beyond hope of cure by conventional means. The tumors became smaller and symptoms subsided. This is good news, especially in cancer of the esophagus and pancreas, which are notoriously resistant to radiation therapy.

LASER ENERGY has great potentials as a weapon against malignant tumors. Human cancers of the thyroid gland and of the skin (melanomas) were transplanted into the cheek pouches of hamsters. These animals were exposed later to this intense ray of light and the tumors were destroyed in a high percentage. The untreated control hamsters died.

We do not know why the laser beams destroy cancer cells. They do not penetrate the skin and it is necessary to expose the growths through surgery before turning on the machine. Heat plays a role because a wisp of vapor arises when the diseased area is hit by these rays.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

KIDNEY DISEASE

B. J. M. writes: My son, a student, has developed nephritis, for which he is being treated. Do you think he will be able to return to college?

REPLY

There is a good chance that he will be able to do so. Most victims of acute nephritis get well and those with the chronic type improve enough to carry on their usual activities.

VESSELS AFFECTED

F. N. writes: Why does diabetes cause poor circulation of the legs?

REPLY

Diabetes hastens hardening of the arteries. This is one of the reasons why the disease should be under control at all times with diet and insulin or one of the antidiabetic tablets.

SALT IS SAFE

Mrs. L. writes: I'm 66 years old and like my meals well salted. Will this hasten hardening of the arteries?

REPLY

No. The intake of salt should be limited if high blood pressure or dropsy is present, but not of you are otherwise healthy.

NONMALIGNANT TUMORS

F. L. writes: Are fatty tumors cancerous?

REPLY

This would be most unusual. Lipomas are removed surgically for cosmetic reasons.

Balboa Naval Station Is Hub Of Canal Crisis

PANAMA (P)—To a schoolchild in the United States, Balboa is the man who discovered the Pacific Ocean. In Panama, Balboa means a U.S. naval station and town, the hub of the present crisis between the United States and Panama.

In the wake of bloody rioting, Panama President Roberto Chiari's official stance is that the United States must agree to negotiate a new Canal Zone treaty before Panama will restore diplomatic relations with Washington. Panama wants the new treaty to provide for an eventual takeover by Panama of the 50-mile long, 10-mile wide zone and its canal.

No matter how unpopular they are with Panamanians, Balboa and the Canal Zone and the U.S. role there are vitally important to the immediate existence of Panama itself.

Every year 85 million dollars flows into the Panamanian economy from the zone and its residents. There are many smaller—but real—benefits to the Panamanian.

What would happen if the present concept of the Canal Zone disappeared?

Banker Ruben D. Carles says: "There are great opportunities—and graver problems—in returning the canal to us. One would be finding the sources to replace the 70- to 180-million-dollar income from the zone and their accompanying effect on employment, commerce, industry and balance of payments."

He advocates a wide range of U.S. compensations for rights over the canal, and he wants Panama to have use of the Canal Zone port facilities. Panama City, the capital, has none.

He says the 1.9-million-dollar annuity the United States now pays Panama for the canal is a paltry sum.

Some Panamanians fear the United States will only pull out of Panama after it has developed a new canal elsewhere across the Central American isthmus, leaving Panama in effect with a big, empty ditch. But many, including Panamanian nationalists, believe the day is over when the United States could go into just any country and build canals.

Zanzibar Coup No Surprise To Africa

By HENRY REUTER

NAIROBI (WPS) — The bloody coup in Zanzibar, which replaced the Arab-dominated government with what promises to be a Castro-type African dictatorship, was not such a total surprise here as it was to the rest of the world.

East African newspapers have for some time described Zanzibar as a training ground for subversion which might eventually spread to the mainland, just 25 miles away. For during the past five years, Zanzibar has been a center of Communist intrigue and infiltration. Scores of young Zanzibaris are known to have been sent to Communist countries for training and indoctrination, some being sent to Cuba for military training.

Also, observers in East Africa are well aware of the racial fires which have burned below the political surface in Zanzibar, and which erupted in bloodshed just two-and-a-half years ago.

Some felt concern about what might happen after Zanzibar became independent, which it did less than two months ago.

But only a fortnight before the recent coup, leaders of the Afro-Shirazi Party, then the opposition, gave assurances that they intended to work with the ruling coalition made up of the Zanzibar Nationalist Party (ZNP) and the Zanzibar and Pemba Peoples Party (ZPPP) in building a new nation. There was hope that they would do so.

For centuries Arabs and Persians from Muscat and Oman have ruled the islands of Zanzibar and Pemba. Many of today's Zanzibar Africans are the descendants of the Arabs' slaves, and are of mixed blood.

But over the years, the Africans and Afro-Shirazis (dark-skinned people of mixed African and Shiraz blood) have increased. Their numbers have been swollen by immigrants from the mainland of Africa until today they form the majority in the island's 320,000 population.

The present chapter of violence on the island really began in June 1961 when 94,000 voters on Zanzibar and neighboring Pemba went to the polls. This was nine months after the death of Sultan Seyyid Sir Khalifa bin Harub, who had been highly respected by all communities and thus able to keep racial hatred and bitterness in check.

Then, as voting queues formed, fighting broke out. Over 70 people, mostly Arabs, were killed and 400 were injured. After this spate of bloodshed the ZNP and the ZPPP formed a ruling alliance.

In July of last year there was another election, and this time Britain, former ruler of the islands, was asked to help supervise it so there would be no further riots.

More than 1,000 officers and men of the Scots Guards patrolled the polling booths, together with 900 policemen and 70 Special Constables. Spotter aircraft and helicopters cruised over the voting areas to radio trouble signs to patrolling armored cars, and road blocks were thrown up all over the island.

Given these precautions, the elections passed off peacefully.

Mill Valleyan Charged With Hit-Run Driving

Robert T. Walker, 40, of 610 Sequoia Valley Road, Mill Valley, was charged with hit-run driving after his pickup car reportedly sideswiped a car on Panoramic Highway, a half mile west of San Juan Road, Tamalpais Valley, at 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

The California Highway Patrol reported that Walker kept going after the truck collided with a car driven by James Stewart Russell Jr. of P. O. Box 287, Ross.

Dobbs To Talk On Marinwood Future

Marin County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs will talk about master planning and the future of Marinwood and the Lucas Valley tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Marinwood Community Center.

Dobbs' discussion is sponsored by the Marinwood Assn. He will also answer questions after his talk, said Boyd F. Wells, association spokesman.

tion won 18 seats with 72,491 votes. The Afro-Shirazi Party won only ten seats with 85,281 votes. In answer to charges that the constituencies were "fixed," the Government blandly replied that the opposition had agreed to the constituency boundaries before the voting.

Resentment has seethed ever since.

Following the coup, Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika leaders held emergency meetings, took a look at the color of the island's new rulers and promptly indicated that, since the former government had capitulated, they would support the new government. This, they said, should make for closer African unity.

Kenya's note that John Okello, the 27-year-old Field Marshal who helped bring the new revolutionary government of the Peoples' Republic of Zanzibar to power, is a former fighter in the Mau Mau which terrorized Kenya during the 1950s.

The "Isle of Cloves" is now being referred to here increasingly as the "Isle of Intrigue."

$10,000 Damage Suit Is Filed For Injuries

Caesar J. Orsini of 23 Arcangel Way, Los Ranchitos, filed a $10,000 damage suit against the San Rafael High School District in Superior Court Friday for injuries suffered by his daughter, Mara, Sept. 10.

Mara collided with a school bus while walking on Golden Hind Boulevard, near DeAnza Way.

Orsini said that his daughter suffered a brain concussion, a fractured collarbone, cuts and bruises, and he charged negligence on the part of the defendants.

Named as defendants in the suit were Barbara Kathleen Cole, the bus driver, San Rafael Schools, San Rafael High School District, the State of California and four John Does.

Orsini made his claim for $10,000 and $459.85 in medical expenses to the San Rafael Board of Education last October. The board rejected the claim in November.

Negro Teachers Gain

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The number of school districts in Los Angeles County employing Negro teachers has increased from 10 to 50 per cent since 1959, according to the Fair Employment Practices Commission.

Science Edges Nearer Heat Theory Of Life

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UP)—Science is edging closer to proving that the "thermal theory" of how life originated is both plausible and workable.

In the atmosphere of the earth when it was so primitive there was no life upon it, were relatively simple chemicals in gaseous form.

The "thermal theory" holds heat provided the energy which transformed these gases into more complex chemicals from which came life.

Prof. Sidney W. Fox of Florida State University, Tallahassee, a leading proponent, gave the theory additional substance with two laboratory experiments.

In one he and Dr. Kaoru Harada produced all but two of the 18 amino acids which are common to proteins from the gases, methane and ammonia. Both gases probably were abundant in the primitive atmosphere.

The scientists used heat in the range of 1652 to 1980 degrees (F) and "passed" the gases through solids which probably were common on the primitive earth, such as quartz sand and volcanic sand.

To appreciate the possibility must keep in mind that amino acids are demonstrably the chemical building blocks of proteins and proteins are the complex molecules which are the essence of life.

In the second experiment Fox took small samples from an active volcanic lava field in Hawaii. In depressions of these hot rocks he put mixtures of amino acids which promptly melted. He washed them with hot water.

The run-off water continued "huge numbers" of extremely tiny spheres which the microscope made visible. It was a clear demonstration of polymerization, that is, the uniting of a number of chemical compounds into a compound of higher molecular weight containing the same elements but of different physical properties.

That could be the beginnings of the cells of life.

The experiment assumed hot volcanic rock was plentiful in the primitive earth and it was constantly washed by ocean waters and rain. And the amino acid came from the action of heat on atmospheric gases.

In reporting to the technical journal, "Nature," Fox took issue with scientists who have doubted the primitive earth had enough volcanic heat in enough places to have energized the beginnings of life. He bore down on the following fact.

Underlying most of Oregon and parts of Idaho and Washington are 200,000 square miles of cooled lavas. This huge field has a thickness in places of 3,000 feet and that thickness could have resulted only from hundreds of lava flows one on top of another.

And that, Fox said, citing geologic authority, is only one of many areas where there are obvious remains of a once very hot earth.

Airman Honored

Navy Airman James P. Inden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip L. Inden of 588 Woodbine Drive, San Rafael, has been honored as "Division Man of the Month" while serving aboard the amphibious assault ship Princeton, out of Long Beach. He received a letter of recognition for performance of duty, conduct and leadership potential.

HOW TO GET RICH SLOW (but sure)

Every dollar you invest in Series E Savings Bonds grows 33 1/3% bigger in 7 years and nine months. You can count on it.

It's not as exciting as drilling a wildcat oil well, or diving for sunken gold. But it's mighty reliable. Especially when you use the Payroll Savings Plan to help you make sure you buy Bonds regularly.

This famous plan takes the backsliding out of saving money by making it automatic. You just tell your employer you want him to set aside a small amount from your check each payday.

($4.33 a week will add up to twelve $25 Bonds a year. But you can have more or less deducted as you choose.)

Then you forget all about it. Savings come easily and almost painlessly. You never see the small amount that's deducted so you hardly miss it.

There's a unique satisfaction to saving money this way, too. Everytime you slip another Bond into your pocket, you know you're helping your country as well as yourself. Uncle Sam uses the money to help America resist the forces that threaten our freedoms.

Another thing about getting rich slow with U. S. Savings Bonds is that almost anybody can do it. So why not sign up for Payroll Savings before next payday?

Quick facts about U. S. Savings Bonds

- You get $4 for every $3 at maturity
- You can get your money anytime
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You can buy Bonds where you work or bank

Keep freedom in your future with

Meeting Is Called On Museum Plan

A meeting has been scheduled Wednesday to find out how much interest there is in establishing an historical and fine arts museum in Marin County.

Mrs. Edward B. Hayden of San Rafael, one of those studying the idea, said such a museum could fill a need for all residents and particularly for school pupils and students.

She said about 20 persons have been invited to the organizational meeting at 8 p.m. at the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults' office at 629 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

She said others who have been studying the idea are Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Keaton and Mrs. Lohar Salin, all of San Rafael. John Campbell of Sausalito, president of the California Heritage Council, has also taken an interest in the proposal.

Mrs. Hayden said there are several grants available which could give such a project financial support. She said one of the first steps necessary would be formation of an art commission.

The purpose of Wednesday meeting is to put the proposal before representatives of various civic groups so they can take the idea back to their memberships and get some measure of the interest.

Mrs. Hayden said the Marin County Board of Supervisors has been asked to send a representative, also the San Rafael City Schools, the Marin Junior League, the Marin County Historical Society and several other groups.

The historical society, through its president Alton Lerch, has already expressed a strong interest, Mrs. Hayden said.

Dream Of Sailing With All-Girl Crew Is Ended

The dream of Jim Burke to sail his all-girl crewed schooner "Kompri" to Tahiti is definitely ended—he sold the craft last week.

K. O. Painter of Fremont said Saturday he purchased the 45-footer in its San Rafael Yacht Harbor berth for the price asked in a recent newspaper ad, $6,500. He said whereabouts of Burke is not known to him.

Burke, 39-year-old San Rafael sailor, hoped last September to cruise the South Seas with a girl crew. Troubles beset him early, including a probation ruling for failing to support his three children by an earlier marriage and refusal of one girl crew member to leave his boat.

Burke has also advertised a houseboat, dingy and motor for sale.

Garbage Service Plan Due Council

San Rafael's city charter forbids issuance of exclusive franchises by the city, but an attorney may have found a way around that in the case of garbage service.

A. E. Bagshaw, former long-time city attorney, is scheduled to address the city council meeting at 8 p.m. today on a proposal for an exclusive contract between Marin Sanitary Service, which he represents, and the San Rafael Sanitation District.

The sanitation district is a creature of the city, but its boundaries are not the same of the city's. Part of the sanitation district is in unincorporated area, and part of the city is within the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

Marin Sanitary Service wants an exclusive contract with fixed rates—slightly above those now being charged San Rafael customers—to give it assured income needed for purchase of bigger and better equipment, according to Bagshaw.

The council will hear again tonight an appeal by D. M.

Trustees May Weigh Closing Tam Campus

The proposed closing of the Tamalpais High School campus could come before the Tamalpais Union High School District board today at its 8 p.m. meeting.

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle asked that the board hold an "executive session" at the close of its regular meeting to discuss "problem" and "assignment of personnel" at Tamalpais High School. Carlisle said, however, the matters probably could be resolved in open meeting.

The board will hear a proposal from Laurence D. Herst, student body president of Redwood High School, to name the school library in honor of John F. Kennedy.

A request will be made to authorize architects to draw plans for a 4,050-square-foot storage building adjacent to the two sheds at the district's corporation yard.

The board is scheduled to act on the resignation of Tante Jallof, English teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School, who has taught in the district for 35 years.

'Flowering Peach' Is Rescheduled

Opening date of Festival Theater's production of "The Flowering Peach" has been rescheduled for the weekend of Feb. 21-23 at 2 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

Original date had been Feb. 14-16. Friday and Saturday performances are at 8:30 p.m., with Sunday performance at 7:30 p.m.

"Creative Play," one of a John Tracy Clinic film series, will be shown at a meeting of Marin Parents of Hearing Handicapped Children at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Marindale School, 1051 Las Ovejas, San Rafael.

Corte Madera Teen Dances On Agenda

Teen-age dances at the Corte Madera Recreation Center, a bond issue for a public safety building and naming of a councilman top the items on the agenda for the Corte Madera Town Council at its 7:30 p.m. meeting today.

Councilmen are expected to discuss the action taken by Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandon in closing down the recreation center for teen-age dances in the wake of a near-riot on Jan. 25.

A more detailed cost estimate for the proposed public safety building is to be given. The council will be asked to determine the amount of the bond issue and the date of the election.

The council has failed, so far, in naming a replacement for Robert I. Ladow. A councilman must be appointed by Tuesday night, or an election will have to be held.

Brandon will recommend that Betty S. Behl, appointed senior clerk, be named city clerk. An 8 p.m. discussion is scheduled with representatives of the Marin Conservation League on acquiring 87 acres of underwater property off the town's shoreline.

The council will receive a petition signed by 11 property owners calling for formation of an assessment district for construction of upper Stetson Avenue.

Artist From Marin Wins First Prize

A painting called "Sierra Drift" by Lynn Falch of Corte Madera, has been awarded first prize at a special show sponsored by the Marin Society of Artists.

His painting will be part of a show of paintings and sculpture to be exhibited for a month beginning Feb. 29 at the new offices of the Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. in San Anselmo.

Marine Takes Class

Marine Pfc. Leonard H. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Williams of 1118 Grant Avenue, Novato, is attending a course in the technique of military instruction at Camp Hansen, Okinawa.

Christensen Construction Co. from planning commission turn-down of a master plan for Northgate North, a planned community development at Manuel Freitas Parkway.

An ordinance conveying the city hall property to California Newspapers Inc. under terms of sale agreed upon two weeks ago is scheduled for introduction.

Also scheduled is a resolution calling for issuance of additional bonds of the downtown parking district to finance doubledecking of two off-street parking lots.

San Rafael High Offers New Courses

New courses for adults in driver training and modern mathematics will begin tonight and Wednesday at San Rafael High School, according to Ralph Phelps, director of the high school district adult program.

The driver education and training course will be offered twice a week for eight weeks from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., on Monday and Wednesday, in Room 57. Enrollment will be limited to 24 students.

The course in modern mathematics for parents will begin Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 30 at the high school and will be taught by Mrs. Sue-Ann Joy. Those enrolling will also be required to purchase a textbook.

The district will begin the third semester of courses for adults seeking high school diplomas at Hamilton Air Force Base on Feb. 17.

'Medieval Manner' To Be Fair's Theme

"In the Medieval Manner" is the theme of the 19th annual Marin Art and Garden Fair July 1-5 at the garden center in Ross.

Exhibitors key their displays to the theme. Fair sponsors are the Marin County Board of Supervisors. The fair will be open to the public at 6 p.m., Wednesday, July 1, and from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. the following days.

Session Faces Items Ranging From Schools To Bay Filling

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown has opened the special session of the California legislature to 42 items, including enough important and controversial ones to assure the lawmakers of a hectic time between now and early April.

The special session was called today, just after the budget session opened to receive the governor's 3.6-billion-dollar budget for fiscal 1964-65.

Here is the complete list of special session items:

1. A deficiency appropriation of $161,000 to make up salary increases.
2. Augmentation of the emergency fund to provide for printing of new mathematics textbooks.
3. Financial support for school districts, totaling $87.5 million dollars, including 25 million dollars already appropriated, 35 million dollars earmarked in the 1963 session and 27.5 million dollars to be raised through imposition of the countywide school property tax (60 cents per $100 in assessed value for elementary schools and 50 cents for high schools).
4. A 350 million dollar bond issue for state construction, including about 72 per cent for higher education facilities. This bond issue probably will be for the November election ballot.
5. A 260 million dollar bond issue to continue the program of loans to school districts for classroom construction, probably to be on the June ballot.
6. Designate the coordinating council of higher education to accept federal aid to higher education.
7. Reduce the requirements for approval of school district bonds from the present 66½ per cent to 60 per cent.
8. Provide for off-campus extension programs for military personnel at state colleges.
9. A proposed constitutional amendment to eliminate the deductions in state taxes paid by insurance companies for local property taxes paid for their principal office, and to permit a flat standard deduction in personal income taxes, eliminating income tax liability.
10. To consider changes in the formula for dividing revenues of Long Beach tideland oil drilling.
11. Creation of office of California development, to include the present economic development agency and world trade authorities and add a new office of tourism, at a cost of $200,000.
12. Creation of a department of housing and community development to administer federal funds. The department would concentrate on the rural housing program for farm workers.
13. Provide salary increases for judges and for top-level state executives. Salary increases would go to directors and some deputies up to the director of finance and would include all constitutional officers but the governor who elected to remain out of the salary increase plan.
14. Consider punched card voting systems and approval of voting machines.
15. Establish bi-partisan election commission to study voter registration and elections.
16. Control of billboards.
17. Payment of educational assistance to veterans and dependents of veterans from veterans fund, rather than general fund.
18. Permit veterans to finance purchases of farms up to $70,000 instead of $40,000 under the Cal-Vet program.
19. Acceptance of deposits by banks organized in foreign countries.
20. Registration, examination and reporting by savings and loan holding companies.
21. Concerning membership fees of State Bar of California.
22. Creation of new superior courts.
23. Reapportionment of supervisorial districts in general-law counties.
24. Creation of public transit districts.
25. Creation of a commission to study the future of the San Francisco Bay and effects of further filling of the bay.
26. Granting submerged lands previously used by federal government to city of Benicia.
27. Legislation concerning the Yuba County water agency.
28. Legislation on Cardinal grapes.
29. Validation of actions by public bodies.
30. Study commission on mental retardation.
31. Enabling legislation for state to obtain federal funds for mental retardation and mental health.
32. Approval of positions, ties of $5 or less for a single person and $10 or less for a couple.

salaries and other budgetary matters of local school districts by county superintendent of education.

33. Inter-district attendance agreements between local school districts.

34. Costs of elections on organization of new junior college districts.

35. Los Angeles teachers' retirement system.

36. Granting of continuances by courts.

37. Bonds of structural pest control licensees.

38. Permit expansion of the service area of the East Bay municipal utility district.

39. Assessment of property and issuance of bonds representing unpaid assessments to parking district law of 1951.

40. Issuance of revenue bonds by county water districts on behalf of improvement districts within such water districts.

41. Deletion of office of minute clerk from statutory list of assembly officers.

42. The consent calendar of the senate and assembly.

Drivers Warned On School Bus Lights

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A dual flashing red light on a school bus in California means stop without passing the bus and wait until the red lights go off, California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden has reminded drivers.

When the bus is in the opposite lane of a divided highway, however, a motorist does not have to stop, he said.

27. Legislation concerning the Yuba County water agency.

28. Legislation on Cardinal grapes.

29. Validation of actions by public bodies.

30. Study commission on mental retardation.

31. Enabling legislation for state to obtain federal funds for mental retardation and mental health.

Kentfield Fire Annex Approved

The Kentfield Fire Commission has approved the annexation of three units of Kent Woodlands, totaling about 90 acres, along Ridgcrest and Crown roads.

The county board of supervisors last week put the final stamp of approval on the annexation.

Chief Kenneth Kamp said the meeting was moved up one week from last night, without notice to press or public, so the annexation proposal could go to the board of supervisors Tuesday.
